Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I christened this bill in the Committee as "The Thing" and to me it is still "The Thing." You refused to give us a public hearing on "The Thing" so that we might be able to get inside and find out something about The Thing.

My good friend Mr. Smith, on the other side of this House, is somewhat disturbed, I suppose, about the activities of the House today and has been worried somewhat for many weeks.

I opposed this bill on first reading, if you remember, and I would be very neglectful of my duty if I did not continue to oppose it.

I want to thank the Speaker and the Members of the House for the attention they have given during the debate on this bill, and I hope they will continue to do that. I can recall back a number of years ago when a Member got up to speak that they resented somewhat; the inkwells would rattle until your toenails rattled. I must say we have come a long way since those days, and this House of Representatives deserves a lot of credit for that.

We have continually fought to better conditions, and I am sorry that the public hearing was not granted. We could then have eliminated a lot of this time in the House of Representatives, had we had the opportunity for a public hearing. But you Members here saw fit to deny the right of a public hearing.

Now at least we have given a public hearing to the politicians, because we have had this bill before this House long enough to have a public hearing and we did give opportunity for a political public hearing. The outcome of that political public hearing will be decided here today. That political public hearing which you have had and which you cannot deny, because this bill was defeated, and gave you the opportunity for the political public hearing in order to mend the fences of the politicians and to deprive the people of Pennsylvania of that same privilege. So we find ourselves right back where we were in the beginning. We still have "The Thing."

I could interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, and I think a few questions would not hurt—I will interrogate the gentleman, if I may?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman talked himself right into it.

Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. It looks as though I am talked into it, too, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman, if a farmer delivered his products to market would he be able to exempt under this particular bill, the time or the gasoline or the money that he may have spent in doing so—if he could exempt that under this particular bill?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe he would be able to exempt his time, but if the cost of delivering that material was part of his business cost, it would not be exempted, but it would be deductible.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that a steel worker working in a steel mill, living in Podunk in Westmoreland County, working in the city of Pittsburgh, could deduct his transportation to and from his place of employment?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would say no, and I would like to remind the gentleman that he can no more do that under this bill than he has the privilege of doing it under the Federal income act. He does not have that privilege under that act.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have continually insisted that we do not refer to the Federal income tax in the same breath.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not impressed me with his insistence.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, when you consider in the same breath the Federal income tax with a flat income tax in Pennsylvania you are not being fair, and I have continually asked of this House to be fair.

You know and I know that if we had before us today a graduated income tax for the State of Pennsylvania, I as one would vote for it, and will vote for it any time it comes before this body, if I am a Member of the General Assembly.

I want to assure the gentleman from Dauphin that he at least is going to get one vote that he did not get last week because I was absent. I am going to give one more vote on this side of the ledger. And I hope those Members that saw fit to defeat this bill will continue to defeat a flat income tax in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MORAN. I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I am still holding up, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I understood in a previous interrogation that the Department of Revenue would collect this tax if this bill passes, is that right?

Mr. SMITH. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Can the gentleman tell me approximately how many new employees will be required to handle this tax?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can only answer that on a rough estimate as I did prior to today.

On the basis of calculation and on the basis of comparing ourselves to other states which have a similar, although not exactly the same tax, I told the gentleman who interrogated me at that time, it would probably take about fifteen hundred employees. That could be a few hundred either way.

Mr. MORAN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the thought struck me since it requires so many new employees to handle this tax, I wonder if this in any way would influence any of the Members on the majority side from a patronage standpoint?

I also believe in talking to a lot of our legal talent and getting their views on this bill, that if passed and contested, will be declared unconstitutional.

Now, Mr. Speaker I would like to ask permission to enter on the record, rather than taking up the time of the House in reading them, newspaper articles which best express what the minority members of this House believe in regard to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran. Without objections the communications of the gentleman will be spread upon the record. The Chair hears none.

Teachers Back State Income Tax

By Harrisburg Correspondent

Harrisburg, April 10.—State teacher and Parent-Teacher groups today were urging legislators to support the income tax bill.

The measure setting up a half of one per cent levy, which is expected to be called up for reconsideration in the House tomorrow, was defeated last week by 105 to 101.

Every one of the 208 members in the lower chamber received a copy of a letter urging passage of the bill on the basis of school needs.

The letters were sent out by the Pennsylvania State Educational Assn. and the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc. The former organization represents 55,000 teachers and the latter 306,400.

Fine's Warning

Gov. John S. Fine warned over the weekend that education programs would be among those services hit if the legislature failed to enact either a sales or income tax.

Fine still favors the income tax and is rounding up support for another attempt at passing it.

The activity of the school organizations in behalf of the income tax brought a blast from House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown, that teachers had been misled "as result of a malicious, untruthful campaign."

Asks Tax

PSEA President John M. Lumley termed enactment of the income tax "imperative."

Lumley commented:

"A financial structure that depends for one-third of its revenue to the general fund from so-called emergency and special taxes is not sound. A broad-base tax is imperative to provide the government services to which our commonwealth is committed by legislative action."

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Monday, April 9, 1951.

Facts, Not Threats

In an effort to save his flat income tax bill, Governor Fine has resorted to a fairly common political device. He is crying havoc at the top of his voice, thus hoping to frighten certain powerful groups into support of his program.

Unless his income tax proposal, rejected by the House last week, is approved, the Governor has warned, a sales tax will be needed or, if neither an income nor sales tax is passed, cuts will have to be made in the State's education, health and welfare services.

The sales tax threat is designed, of course, to win acceptance of the income tax among organized labor and other elements opposed to a sales levy. And the threat to slash appropriations in the fields of education, health, and welfare is aimed at arousing such groups as educators, the healing arts professions, and professional welfare workers.

We do not blame Governor Fine for trying to get his tax program approved, but we question the wisdom of his approach. As we have suggested previously, he should try to sell his program on the basis of fact rather than attempt to ram it down the Assembly's throat.

In other words, the Assembly and the public should be convinced at open hearings that the Governor's billion-plus budget is not larded with fat and that the income tax is the best method of raising additional funds with which to balance the budget. There can be no such conviction in the absence of a full and open legislative study.

The Governor can doubtless make out a very strong case for his tax program. Certainly he can show that he has inherited from the last administration such unavoidable expenses as an additional $10,000,000 in State Authority rentals, and some $60,000,000 in new funds with which to finance the veterans' bonus. This newspaper pointed out at the time the bonus was passed that veterans and all the rest of us would be paying for it for many years to come and that the public could, therefore, anticipate higher taxes.

Now Governor Fine is trying to find the money with which to meet obligations approved in the past. Instead of trying to frighten the Assembly and the public into blind acceptance of his program, however, he should win support for it on the basis of indisputable fact developed at open hearings.

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

A Do-Nothing Assembly

Here it is mid-April and the General Assembly has done virtually nothing. After three and a half months in session, it has nothing to show for its work and expense except civil defense legislation, which was non-controversial.

On other major issues, the Assembly has proved powerless to act. It has failed to determine exactly the State's financial needs for the next two years and to provide any additional funds that might be required to meet them. That leaves hanging such important considerations as what to do about education, health and welfare. It would be foolish to take action affecting those services until we know what revenue will be available.

In other fields, the Assembly has proved equally indecisive. Such hardy legislative perennials as a Fair Employment Practices law, a bill to remove unfair restrictions on margarine, stronger sex laws, the question of what to do about overweight trucks that pound our roads to pieces, and the need to reapportion the State's congressional and legislative districts as required by the Constitution—these and other matters are the victims of inexcusable lethargy or willful obstruction.

Aside from these reminders of past failures, there are new issues which the Assembly has shown a shameful reluctance to settle. There is buried in committee, for instance, excellent legislation to overhaul the State's haphazard child placement and adoption practices. There is the question of a loyalty oath for State employees. Nor has there been a decision on revision of the archaic Constitution.

Still, the Assembly fails to get going. Is it for want of leadership in both the executive and legislative branches of our State Government? An impatient public is beginning to wonder. The people are not reassured by what is going on, or rather what is not going on, in Harrisburg. The Assembly should get down to business without further delay.

Mr. CLAPPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a few statements to the House.

It so happens that recently a vicious, unjust and unfair attack was made upon the school teachers of Pennsylvania on the floor of this House. Why this statement was made, I do not know. But I would like it to be recorded upon the Legislative Journal of this House that I as a Member of the House do not believe that the teachers of Pennsylvania are a selfish group of people.

The teachers of Pennsylvania stand united to break down selfishness in this great Commonwealth. The future destiny of Pennsylvania rests upon the school rooms of Pennsylvania, and I believe that the teachers have and will continue to uphold to the best of their ability the fundamental principles that were laid down when our constitution was adopted.

I would like to say this afternoon in answer to the statement that was made that the school teachers were unaware of the contents of this bill which we will vote upon this afternoon, I would like to advise the Members of this House that the PSEA organization which represents all of the school teachers that belong to the organization are fully aware of the contents of this bill, and as a delegate to the House of Delegates which the teachers held in the last weeks of December it was discussed in that House of Delegates that a broad base tax was necessary if the educational system of Pennsylvania was to be carried on in a successful manner in this great Commonwealth.

This afternoon I want to say to the Members of this House that I am going to back the teachers of Pennsylvania. I am not going to say to them that I will vote for an increase in your salary, or I will vote for an increase in subsidy to the school districts of Pennsylvania providing I can find the money. I intend to stand on both feet and back the school districts of Pennsylvania and the teachers by supporting this bill because I know that if this tax bill is passed in this House there will be funds that are necessary to uphold our educational system in this State.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, though I were endowed with the tongue of men and angels, I would not expect to change a single vote. I do not think you could roll Demosthenes, Daniel Webster, Patrick Henry and William Jennings Bryan into one personality and change a single vote. So at this time I am, for the purpose of the record, for the purpose of the future, briefly summarizing our positions.

I appreciate the devotion of the gentleman from Bedford to the cause of the embattled teachers. I want to say that I place more confidence in the rank and file of the teaching profession than I place in the executives of the PSEA who represent them in Harrisburg. I was interested, in view of more than four hundred and fifty telegrams from teachers, individual teachers, to hear the gentleman from Bedford say that he did not think the teachers knew what was in the bill. But this puissant, powerfully, all-wise House of Delegates did know, did know what was in the bill and it knew what was not in the bill, and I leave it to history to determine who disseminated misleading information among the rank and file.

Now every bitter medicine needs a sugar coating, and this bill needed respectable, local sponsorship. How could you take an objectionable measure and sugar coat it and give it respectable local sponsorship by a means that would be more powerful than placing the rank and file of the teaching profession back of that bill?

Now Mr. Speaker, I would like to, if I may, interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Chairman of the House Education Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Soltenberger permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, are there bills now pending in the House Education Committee that have been introduced with either the direct or implied sponsorship of the PSEA and which represent the program of the PSEA as it has been adopted at its various conferences and conventions?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. There are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. What are the numbers of those bills?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. The salary bill is 333; 334 is the subsidy bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what would House Bills 333 and 334, if enacted in the form in which they were introduced, cost the Commonwealth or the local school districts, either one or both, over and above the rate of current expenditure?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. House Bill No. 334 which is the only bill that requires any expenditure of money, will require for the next biennium approximately $93 million over the 1949-1951 biennium. That includes, of course, the commitments made by the 1949-1951 session that carry into the future.

Mr. ANDREWS. But it boils down to a rough increase as the bills stand of at least $90 million.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what are the increases proposed in the budget as submitted by His Excellency the Governor?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I presume the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, has reference to the two House bills only, and not so far as any other bill is concerned.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. There will be approximately $27 million, that is the commitment of the former legislative session. There will be $20 millions to be considered in the Governor's proposed budget. That will be an amount of $47 million of subsidy to the districts for instructional purposes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the spread between the expenditures by the Commonwealth for and on behalf of the public schools as sponsored by the PSEA and the figure suggested by His Excellency the Governor?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the gentleman correctly, he wants to know the difference between the amount that was covered by the former Legislature and the proposed amount, the two added, and subtract that from the amount that House Bill 334 will require.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right, and the gentleman being skilled in the matter of mathematics and learned in the matter of budgets, I defer to him as to the mathematics of the calculations.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. The arithmetical end of it I might be able to give, but so far as the budget, no, I am not an authority, and not even the son of an authority.

Mr. ANDREWS. Was the gentleman swearing at the budget secretary?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. No, Mr. Speaker, if I wanted to swear about it I would have substituted another word for the word "authority" that I heard has happened in legislative halls already. When someone wanted to swear and did not want to use the correct word, he substituted. About $45 or $46 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is there any reason why we should believe, or why the teachers should believe that if House Bill 840 is passed, that the teachers will get that $46 million?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I would have to make two statements. The first is, it is certainly the will of the teachers that they get it; I think I could speak for them on that. But the more important and the final answer would be that the Appropriation Committee will have to answer your question by action.

Mr. ANDREWS. But there are no implied agreements, no understandings, no bargains made which in any way would give the teachers any where reason to feel that they had this $46 million?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking for myself, as Chairman of the Committee on Education; I know of no agreement between any authorities and the teachers or the Committee on Education or anyone else that there will be sufficient money. Absolutely no agreement that I know of in any way.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one further question.

Would the gentleman from Blair care to give his views as to why hundreds of teachers and on the basis of my correspondence, thousands of teachers, individuals, just teachers, identify the success of House Bill 840 with a certainty of getting the $46 million? What are the psychological or other factors that have led to that belief, as I could demonstrate to this House were I to take the time to read the hundreds of telegrams that I have received.

Now, it is not fiction; it is not a mere statement on my part that the teachers apparently so believe; it is stated in their telegrams, and I wonder how that has come about.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I have no definite answer for the gentleman. It is plainly seen by just common logic and common sense that I could not give a definite answer. I will attempt to answer in my own opinion and speaking for no one else. In the first place there is no assurance, and I do not believe that they have assurance in any way of the full amount as requested in House Bill 334.

Now in the second place, it is only good reasoning and common sense to think that if the schools through the subsidy will receive the $92 million plus, it would be by an added tax, at least a reasonable amount of that, and I think that is what they have in mind; that there is no hope of receiving $92 million plus for instructional purposes, which is salaries and so forth, if an added tax bill would not be enacted into law.

Mr. ANDREWS. May I interrupt?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. You may.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is there a feeling that this particular bill that we are now considering will make it possible for this body to appropriate $46 million?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I could not possibly answer that question, because we have an executive, we have an Appropriation Committee, we have a Department of Public Instruction, and all of those groups or individuals must act upon this; and they have prior authority. Therefore I would not attempt to answer that question.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman from Blair.

Mr. Speaker, as far as the teachers are concerned and on the basis of the budget as it stands, a budget embodying the purposes of this administration, the teachers will not receive the full amount for which they have importuned this assembly even if this tax bill passes.

Our position from the first has been this and perhaps the gentleman from Blair has partly expressed it. He says the teachers cannot get this money, the mental health institutions cannot get this money, welfare cannot get this money, unless there is a reasonable increase in the amount we propose to raise through taxes.

We on this side have taken the position that we have, because the Democratic minority in the Senate and a considerable number of members of the majority apparently agree with the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, that present taxes will finance the Governor's budget.

I personally have never accepted that point of view. I do not know. But I have argued, and apparently to no purpose, that before I vote for or against House Bill 840 I should have the benefit of the facts and figures that fortify the view in the Senate that the budget can be financed within the scope of the existing tax structure.

I also have not been unmindful of the suggestions from various sources of alternative methods of financing the imperative needs of the Commonwealth. If some Democratic member, a member of the minority suggested those alternative methods, I would say that you were justified in paying but scant attention. When such suggestions come with a unanimous voice from the press of the Commonwealth as represented in our major cities, I would say as to those suggestions that it is folly to ignore them. I call to the attention of the gentlemen from Philadelphia that apparently in a recent event in Philadelphia the press happened to be right. The press happened to represent public sentiment. There is a bare possibility, that in their demand for a public hearing that they again represent public feeling. The crime in the situation is the fact that for the purposes of the leadership you probably did not want a public hearing because if you had a public hearing you would have heard Republican Senators not in agreement with the administration's program. You would have heard Republican editors not in agreement with the administration's program. You might even have heard Republican Members of this House not in agreement with the administration's program. And goodness knows you have heard enough, you would have heard quite enough from the Representatives on this side of the House. So your peculiar political situation made it inadvisable to hold public hearings lest it be prematurely attacked from the other side of the capital.

You know that history has a habit of repeating, and I am going to ask the privilege of reading a statement made by the Democratic Legislative Caucus on January 8, 1947.—Any of the Members that want to go to sleep while I read, and any Members that care to absent themselves from the Hall of the House during the course of the next half hour are welcome to do so. In fact if you find this reading worrisome I hope that you show your disapproval of what I am doing by just marching right out that door. But I hope that you fellows on this side stick around.

Mr. Speaker, my neighbors here are pleading that I do not make it a half hour because they do not know what the devotion to the cause may be upon the part of all the Members assembled. You know there is a limit of endurance and somebody just on the basis of a verbal attack might crumble.

Anyway, Mr. Speaker, here is what we had to say in 1947:

"The Democratic Legislation Caucus regrets that the General Assembly of 1947 faces the financial situation that is clouded by deception and deceit. It is also unfortunate that the Governor-elect of this Commonwealth is not in a position to plead surprise by reason of the problems that loom upon the Commonwealth's financial horizon.

"Pennsylvania's Governor-elect will head an administration which will come into power following a period during which the Commonwealth's financial position has been persistently and systematically misrepresented."

That was the fact in 1947, it was the fact in 1949, it is the fact in 1951. The Commonwealth's fiscal situation has been persistently misrepresented.

"In order to establish the claim that mythical governmental economies have been real, it has been the policy of the outgoing administration to underestimate revenue accruing for the Commonwealth from various sources—thus making it appear that any surplus established was due to good management instead of being the result of budget manipulation.

It is still the practice of the budget office and practically every Chairman of every Committee in this House knows that the budget office persistently and systematically and as a matter of policy overestimates expenditures and underestimates receipts.

"It was not so many months ago that Edward Martin, speaking as Governor of this Commonwealth, predicted that 'new state tax reductions were in prospect for 1947 to make Pennsylvania even more attractive to industry in the post-war period than it was during the war period.'

At one of his press conferences Senator Martin, then Governor, said—and was so quoted in the Pennsylvania press—that "the Republican gubernatorial candidate can promise to cut taxes again and he will be able to fulfill that promise in 1947."

The campaign pledged, prior to the election of Governor Duff, the last message of Governor Martin specifically definitely predicted, that Governor Martin's successor would be able to reduce taxes.

The phrase "cut taxes again" was used by the then Governor by reason of the fact he had insisted that his administration would reduce taxes in an amount of more than $350 millions.

Thus it is that there appears in the record a positive statement made by Edward Martin as Governor of the Commonwealth that taxes could and would be reduced in 1947—and also there is already in the record a statement made by the Governor-elect that unless new taxes are provided the ordinary routine house-keeping operations of the state government would result during the first biennium of the Duff administration in a deficit approximately $100 million."

When Martin was writing his last budget he made a definite prediction that his successor could reduce taxes. When Martin's successor came into office he said that he had to have new taxes or the deficit would be $100 million.

"Moreover, the Governor-elect makes this dismal forecast indicating a substantial deficit unless new taxes are enacted even though in his campaign, as reported in the Pennsylvania press"—he repeatedly referred to that famous $200,000,000 surplus.

Now you have been very attentive. I am not going to continue that. I will submit it to the reporters for inclusion in full in the record.

Governor-elect Duff's press release covering his memorable speech in Milford carried the following opening paragraph:

"A prediction by the Attorney-General James H. Duff, that the present Administration's treasury surplus 'may reach $200,000,000,' by the end of the biennium is based on swelling returns from levies on gasoline, cigarettes and liquor, the state Budget Office indicated today."

It is not the fact that financial problems have arisen to embarrass political prophets that should be stressed, but rather the fact that the outlines of these problems and their probable advent have so long been concealed from the people. The $200,000,000 surplus that figured in the campaign has been changed into a $100,000,000 probable deficit in a much too mysterious manner.

Governor-elect Duff's predecessor has dumped a messy financial situation into his lap. The incoming administration cannot wipe out all the sins committed by its predecessor, but the time has certainly arrived when the budget office and the governor's office should begin telling the people the truth concerning the financial affairs of their Commonwealth.

The Democratic Legislative Caucus will gladly lay aside partisan considerations and help pull the Commonwealth out of the financial bog in which it finds itself—provided the incoming administration will establish its good faith by a willingness to lay all of the financial cards on the table—and inaugurate a new era during which the people of Pennsylvania will be told the truth concerning their affairs.

The point is that the budget promises made by Martin in his last budget were not fulfilled. The budget promises made during the Duff campaign were not fulfilled; during that campaign there was this fake $200 million surplus. The promises made during the campaign that elected His Excellency the present Governor, the promises repeated at length in the press, ran to the effect that this administration through various economies, through increased revenue, by reason of non-recurring items in the budget would not need any new taxes, and during the campaign the very people who are now saying they need $160 million in new money went around this state telling the people that there was $140 millions produced that could be used in financing the next budget.

Now they were either right in the campaign and wrong now or they were knowingly wrong during the campaign and right now.

All that the gentlemen in the other chamber are doing is adopting the very figures which during the recent campaign the spokesmen for His Excellency the Governor made in his behalf while he was a candidate. Those are the reasons why this side of the House has taken its unalterable stand against this tax at this time—the persistent refusal to submit your facts to public scrutiny.

The refusal being based, in my opinion, upon the exigency of purely partisan politics.

I have not any notion and do not intend to predict what is going to happen to this bill and its future problems. I should not encourage it. I think this bill is going to pass. I do not think you would be here the way you are unless you thought you had the votes.

But, just as the people in Philadelphia eventually won the Charter fight in the face of the Philadelphia leadership, I give it as my considered opinion that the people of this Commonwealth will take into consideration your inconsiderate action, your lack of confidence in public judgment, your unwillingness to have a case stated in an open forum, and that by your action today you will once again contribute to the victory of the political forces that you have been opposing. It is my personal theory long expounded, that the only way the Democrats can win either in Philadelphia or in Pennsylvania is when the Republican leaders make darned fools of themselves.

I think you are taking a step, which as a partisan, I would welcome; but which as a citizen, I would regret.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, my little speech will be a very short one as usual. I have been granted the privilege by my colleague from Schuylkill County to state: We, the Schuylkill County delegation, are appreciative of the actions of the Republican majority of this House for their loyal support given this income tax measure before us when it first made its appearance upon the calendar for its original final passing.

We are, of course, mindful of the fact that a number of the majority Members representing several districts of our Commonwealth, could not see fit for various and good reasons to go along on a favorable basis. These Members are loyal to their constituents. They feel they have a just cause and purpose for their actions. They are not in any way or manner disloyal to this Republican majority.

Perhaps, the minority Members of the House had a just cause in voting against the passage of this income tax bill on its rapid procedure and personality, I have found no fault with the course they have pursued.

However, in reconsideration of this bill before us today, in looking forward to the future, enormous demands are made and going to be made on our state government. Certainly many of these demands are of highest necessity to the welfare of our citizens. These demands carry a great financial outlay and a responsibility and I am now convinced that this income tax is a most desirable method of raising the necessary revenue to pay for demanded services by the public.

Having confidence and believing in the sincerity of our Governor, who is the commander of this great ship of state, and is willing to assume responsibility of guiding us through troubled waters which we face, let me say: "Ship ahoy," and provide him and this administration with the income measure which will provide the funds needed to sail this great ship of state forward.

Mr. Speaker, I submit the following statement by the majority Members of the Schuylkill delegation of the House, giving our position on this income tax measure before us, and I ask your permission to have same printed in the record.

The position of the Schuylkill County delegation has been that if new taxes are necessary, they would prefer the Income Tax to a Sales Tax, because the latter would be a heavier burden on the small income groups. They insisted that more time be given for discussion with groups back home and sought information and clarification of the discussion in the public press in which opponents of the tax bill contend that neither income or sales tax is necessary.

Several statements have been issued by the Governor in support of his budgetary figures which indicate that the defeat of the income tax bill will force the adoption of a sales tax. No one has ever questioned the sincerity of the Governor. For this reason the majority of the Schuylkill County delegation will vote for the income tax with the hope that if it is passed by the House, the budgetary questions that have been raised and the suspicions voiced about the entire State fiscal program will be further clarified by the Senate Finance Committee before this new tax is pressed to final enactment.

IVAN C. WATKINS
WAYNE M. BREISCH
GEO. C. SHOEMAKER
G. EDGAR KLINE

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if there are any other gentlemen that would like to speak on this bill, I will gladly yield to them at this time.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to take any time other than to enter into the records one statement.

Inasmuch as the representative of the delegation from the very County which has been headlined for the past two weeks has seen fit to change his position, I say to the people of Pennsylvania: "Keep your eye on what happens from here on out for the Schuylkill County Members of this House."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, there is no disgrace in reversing any vote when you feel and know that you are right.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say "Amen" to Mr. Watkins' statement.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, several of the gentlemen today when they addressed the House said that they did not intend to take up too much time of the House. Well, I feel that we have certainly debated the merits of this tax over and over again. We have discussed the pros and cons for the last two or three weeks. I am inclined to agree with the Minority Leader that anything that I say now would be just rehashing past arguments.

We as Republicans still feel that of all the broad base taxes, an income tax is the fairest and most equitable to the citizens of this Commonwealth. It is based on the ability to pay and certainly nothing could be fairer than that.

I reiterate at this time, the time for talking is past. Let us call the roll on House Bill 840.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. REIDENBACH, ROBERT A. PRICE, NEEDHAM, Mrs. MUNLEY and Messrs. WARGO and SPENCER offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 15, 1951.

No greater catastrophe can strike a hotel than an early morning fire. Even San Francisco concedes that a fire can create a havoc more devastating and arouse a terror more demoralizing than that caused by an earthquake.

When fire broke out in the Earle Hotel in Scranton, Pennsylvania, at 4:00 a. m. on January 28, 1951, the scene was set for indescribable horror, yet tragedy was averted because of the vigilance, the resoluteness, and the heroism of a number of individuals and groups.

The fire departments of Scranton and its neighboring communities, the Scranton police, the local Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the personnel of the hotel coordinated their efforts in the face of a common danger to awaken and to rescue every guest and to minimize the damage to the hotel and adjoining structures.

With the resourcefulness and the sacrifice that traditionally appear when a united endeavor combats a rapidly growing menace, the responsible parties met their challenge heroically and offered convincing proof that emergencies can always be thwarted by community spirit and cooperation, therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives warmly command Thomas G. Evans, Chief of the Bureau of Fire; his fire fighting associates; police officers, Willard Beynon, Joseph Waltos, and David Biggs; the fire companies of Dunmore, Taylor, Clark-Summit, Olyphant, and Old Forge; the local Chapter of the American Red Cross; and Miss Betty Barbour for their indefatigable service beyond the call of ordinary duty in controlling and extinguishing a hazardous fire at the Earle Hotel and their rescue of all guests from danger and possible death; and be it further

Resolved, That this House is proud that civic responsibility and public spirit are so deeply ingrained in the conscience of the citizens of Scranton, and be it further

Resolved, That the Mayor of Scranton and the members of his official family be given copies of this resolution.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. McDERMIT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 23, 1951 at 4:30 p. m.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXTENDED TO GOVERNOR JOHN S. FINE AND HIS SONS

Mr. WOOD offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 23, 1951.

The shadow of death has fallen across the Governor's mansion and has touched the hearts of those within with inconsolable grief; for Mrs. Helene Morgan Fine was suddenly and fatally stricken on April 23rd, following a routine visit to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

Her unexpected death has etched deeply into the consciousness of Pennsylvanians the bewildering uncertainty of life. Apparently recovered from an earlier operation, Mrs. Fine had been restored to her home to become again the pivotal point of laughter and gaiety and activity in the Executive Mansion. About her gracious personality, the normal social and domestic undertakings of a functional home were brightly rotating—and from her selfless solicitude for others, the coalescing forces that are ever inherent in a wife and a mother irradiated their gentle influence far beyond her family circle to make their pleasant impact on thousands of homes throughout the State.

Suddenly—the lamp of light and love in the Governor's home has become extinguished. Without the slightest warning, a black curtain has been abruptly lowered on a happy domestic scene. The helping hand lies motionless, the tender eyes are glazed in death; and the eloquent lips are silenced forever.

Why? It is denied to us to penetrate the inscrutable mystery of life and hereafter. The ways of God transcend on human understanding and we must inevitably bow our heads to the immutable ordinances of an unknowable Universe; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That this General Assembly express its immeasurable grief over the sudden death of Mrs. Helene Fine and tender to the Governor its heartfelt sympathy in his hour of desolation and sorrow, and be it further

Resolved, That this General Assembly mingle its prayers with the countless supplications arising from all faiths and creeds throughout the Commonwealth, that the Governor and his sons be sustained by an unwavering spiritual solace during their trial of bereavement; and be it further

Resolved, That, despite the inadequacy of verbal expression in defining a moving crisis, a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to Governor Fine and his two sons.

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 68, SENATE BILL No. 366 AND SENATE BILL No. 318

Senate Bill No. 366, Printer's No. 104, entitled "An act to further amend subsection A of Section 221, and to amend Section 241 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 448) entitled 'An act relating to fish and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters, and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth' by extending non-resident fishing privileges to Canadians and re-defining resident."

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, who to save us didst give Thine only-begotten Son, stir us with such love toward Thee that we may gladly share whatever Thou hast entrusted us of life and strength. Grant that we whom Thou hast called to so goodly a heritage in this State, may extend more abundantly to others what we so richly enjoy, and in serving them may know the glory of serving Thee.

Accept our prayers on behalf of the soul of thy servant Helene, and grant her an entrance into the land of light and joy, in the fellowship of Thy saints.

O Merciful God, and Heavenly Father, who hast taught us in Thy Holy Word that Thou dost not willingly afflict or grieve the children of men; look with pity, we beseech Thee, upon the sorrows of Thy servants for whom our prayers are offered. Remember them, O Lord, in mercy; endue their souls with patience; comfort them with a sense of Thy goodness; lift up Thy countenance upon them and give them peace; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, April 23, 1951.

The shadow of death has fallen across the Governor's mansion and has touched the hearts of those within with inconsolable grief; for Mrs. Helene Morgan Fine was suddenly and fatally stricken on April 23rd, following a routine visit to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

Her unexpected death has etched deeply into the consciousness of Pennsylvanians the bewildering uncertainty of life. Apparently recovered from an earlier operation, Mrs. Fine had been restored to her home to become again the pivotal point of laughter and gayety and activity in the Executive Mansion. About her gracious personality, the normal social and domestic undertakings of a functional home were brightly rotating—and from her selfless solicitude for others, the coalescing forces that are ever inherent in a wife and a mother irradiated their gentle influence far beyond her family circle to make their pleasant impact on thousands of homes throughout the State.

Suddenly—the lamp of light and love in the Governor's home has become extinguished. Without the slightest warning, a black curtain has been abruptly lowered on a happy domestic scene. The helping hand lies motionless, the tender eyes are glazed in death; and the eloquent lips are silenced forever.

Why? It is denied to us to penetrate the inscrutable mystery of life and hereafter. The ways of God transcend on human understanding and we must inevitably bow our heads to the immutable ordinances of an unknowable Universe; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That this General Assembly express its immeasurable grief over the sudden death of Mrs. Helene Fine and tender to the Governor its heartfelt sympathy in his hour of desolation and sorrow, and be it further

Resolved, That this General Assembly mingle its prayers with the countless supplications arising from all faiths and creeds throughout the Commonwealth, that the Governor and his sons be sustained by an unwavering spiritual solace during their trial of bereavement; and be it further

SENATE

MONDAY, April 30, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. HARWOOD C. BOWMAN, JR., Pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Kittanning, Pennsylvania offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. O Eternal Lord God, who holdeth all souls in light, vouch-safe, we beseech Thee, our church a paradise and on earth Thy light and Thy peace. Grant that we, following the good example of those who have served Thee here and are now at rest, especially Thy servant Helene, may at last enter into Thy unending joy, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Let us pray also for William J. Ridge. O God, whose mercies cannot be numbered, accept our prayers on behalf of the soul of Thy servant departed, William Ridge, and grant him an entrance into the land of light and joy in the fellowship of Thy saints, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost be with us all evermore. Amen.

REVEREND BOWMAN. Gentlemen of the Senate:

Our Governor, the First Lady of the State, and their two sons have been uppermost in our hearts and prayers this week. I would pay tribute to them now.

When Judge Fine was running in the primary last fall, I had the pleasure of meeting him in Kittanning together with his beloved wife, Helene. Judge Fine spoke at the time his character and reputation were being attacked the strongest. I well remember his words. He said in effect:

When I was Judge, I was respected. My character was unassailable. When I became a candidate for nomination, my character somehow changed overnight. My two sons, who the week before respected their father, now came to me to ask if what they had heard about their daddy in school was true. I had entered the arena of politics.

Gentlemen, a political race is one thing; a political arena is another. A race is clean; an arena is a place of blood.

Strange, how prophetic were Judge Fine's words that night, for he had indeed entered the arena—the arena where the blood of his dearest possession was to be spilled.

Helene Fine is a heroine of this State just as surely as if she had died in the Armed Forces of our Country. Her life has been given in service to the State of Pennsylvania. Governor Fine has paid dearly for his office.

This Senate can do no less than to serve him and to serve this State as well.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. WADE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have received over the last two weeks a great deal of mail and telephone calls relating to one of the most important subjects during this Session of the Legislature; namely, the so-called broadening of the tax base. The reason I rise at this moment is because sooner or later—it looks to me that it will be much later than sooner—we must adjourn this Session of the Legislature. I am so fearful that we may get to the point where we lose our patience and our endurance, and may decide to pass this legislation or at least vote upon it without a public hearing.

Mr. President, I have in my possession literally thousands of postal cards and letters which I can bring to the Senate for review, if necessary, requesting public hearings. This afternoon we had a demonstration of what happens when we refuse public hearings. A group in the Senate fought for public hearings on the so-called Loyalty Bill, and they were denied these hearings. So, we were put into the position of voting for the legislation, not knowing all of the ramifications of the proposed act. The act was passed by the Senate and the House held a semi-public hearing, as I understand it, this afternoon and from what I hear the bill that caused so much commotion in the Senate is as dead as the proverbial dodo bird.

Mr. President, the Senate ought not be asked to vote for legislation of a controversial nature that has many angles and facets to it, that requires a great deal more scrutinization than we can possibly give it in the three daily readings that we give legislation. This question of a public hearing involves a great fundamental. The administrative offices of the Commonwealth, relying upon the figures given by Doctor Logan, the Budget Director, have said that we need an additional $163,000,000 for the coming biennium to meet the cost of State government, including mandated increases. Those of us who have tried to make a study of the proposed budget feel that there is no need at this time for the additional new taxes. We have based this information of ours, or this analysis of ours, rather, upon the information contained within the budget itself. We have not reached into the clouds for any figures, we have not made a pot-shot guess at it or tried to make a political maneuver out of it.

I want to say to the Members of the Senate that a very interesting incident happened on Friday of last week in the Federal Congress that ought to give every man in this Senate his cue in voting for or against the increased budget expenses. The Federal Congress cut the departmental appropriations a flat ten per cent; the twenty-seven governmental departments in Washington were cut a flat ten per cent by the Congress, against the desires of the Chief Executive, against the recommendations of their Budget Directors, and they based their argument for the cut entirely upon the same premise that we are basing our demands here in Pennsylvania, the bloated State pay rolls. In cutting ten per cent, they cut ten per cent from the Atomic Energy Commission, the most vital of all the departments in Washington. They cut ten per cent from the Veterans Administration. In Harrisburg we have been promised, over the years, economy and economy and economy, but to date can anybody tell me where there have been any cuts in departmental expenditures?

I say that a public hearing, and I mean a public hearing, will develop for us the reaction of the various groups of our citizens, those who must pay the tax and those who are interested in the economies of government. Sooner or later a start must be made. Let us not argue the point in this public hearing as to whether a sales tax, or an income tax or whatever type of tax is the proper tax. Let us argue the point on the basis of whether the money that is to be raised is needed.

Mr. President, just to give you an illustration of how this works, I have taken the simplest figures that I can find, and I see that using the 1949 income of the State of Pennsylvania—I am not using the inflated income of 1950 or 1951 or 1952—from all indications our income in Pennsylvania, incidentally from the statements contained in the paper over the week-end, show that the income in Pennsylvania has gone up an average of six dollars a week per worker, and that we have something like three hundred fifty-eight thousand more men working than we had at this time last year, and yet using the figures of 1949, and based on a half per cent collection, the income tax proposed by the administration will raise a minimum of one hundred sixty-eight million dollars.

Now, Mr. President, how can we justify our position before the people of the Commonwealth if we accept this budget director's figures of $119,000,000, and there is not a figure in the entire list of publications that I have had the privilege to look through that can justify the figure of $119,000,000, using Federal income tax figures, using Federal figures on the number of persons working and the average work week wage in Pennsylvania, using the gross income in the Commonwealth of individuals prior to tax by the Federal Government. I have tried every formula and, perhaps, the fact that I never had the chance to study logarithms has dealt me a foul blow, because simple arithmetic shows me somebody is cheating about forty million dollars in the estimates on the income tax, if it is passed in Pennsylvania, but that is nothing. Just at this moment the Legislature can, if it so desires, go over to the Auditor General's office; they can, if they so desire, get the figures on the capital stock franchise tax and the corporate net income tax. For your information, your corporate net income tax is running about sixty per cent over the estimates made by Logan. Your capital stock franchise tax is running approximately forty per cent and if this continues, instead of raising two hundred twenty million dollars under your corporate net income tax for the coming biennium, you will run close to three hundred fifty million dollars.

In my analysis of the budget, and acting only upon the information I find within the budget, I find that two hundred and fifty million dollars, or one hundred million less than the possible peak income from this tax, would still give us thirty million dollars more than what Mr. Logan says we will have. Taking into consideration the non-recurring appropriations of the Commonwealth, such as fifteen million dollars for public housing, sixty million dollars for public relief, sixteen million dollars for your Schuylkill River Project, and, incidentally, speaking of that, I have information within my desk right here that shows that in the Department of Forests and Waters to date there is an unexpended balance of over seven million dollars which is greater than the appropriation asked for in the next two bienniums.

Mr. President, we are not in a position to vote for an increased tax base or a new tax base in Pennsylvania knowing these facts, and any Member of the Senate can get the same facts that I have been able to get together if they will take a few minutes of their time and look into it. I have tried on many an occasion to show exactly what happens to increased budgets, and today, for the benefit of the Senate, I am going to give you an illustration of what is happening in Pennsylvania, and it has happened in the Federal Government. Two wrongs do not make a right. It has happened in many of the local communities, and I am proud to say at this time that the report of the Pennsylvania Economy League, February, 1951, dealing with Westmoreland County has this to say. It is headed, "The County Reverses the Trend," and I am proud to read this, because my county, which I believe to be a fairly decent place to live in, and with fairly decent citizens, and with its share of churches and Christians, has been much maligned in the past six months by persons who for their own particular reasons have some axes to grind, but looking at the County as it is run by the administrators of that county, let us listen to this:

"In this news letter, this League reports on a county budget that carries good news for the taxpayer. We are inclined to be incredulous these days at the thought of any agency of government reducing taxes, yet the county commissioners were able to do so without cutting services and without endangering the county's future financial position. The fiscal affairs of the county have been well managed"—but this is the item that I think you ought to hear—"the element in the budget which makes the tax reduction possible is the more realistic estimate of collections which has been used. Past budget estimates have used an estimate of only eighty per cent of collection of the tax duplicate. Collections of real estate taxes, although experience has produced an invariably higher figure, the 1951 budget used is an expectation of 85 per cent collection, which is still under the actual yield which will come to the county treasury."

Now, Mr. President, that is the crux of my whole argument before the Senate for the past eight years. You cannot underestimate your revenues, overestimate your budgetary needs and then come in with a fake surplus for political purposes. Whether you do it or whether we do it, it is morally wrong. It is economically unsound and it is a condition that must be stopped sooner or later.

Mr. President, here is how it works. We underestimate the income so towards the end of the biennium we have anywhere from—the figures are right here, taken right from the books printed by the State and handed to each Senator—the figures run from sixty-three million to two hundred and fourteen million dollars over and above the estimates. So, along comes an election, and you have all this fat lying there. So, the best thing to do is to fry the taxpayers in that fat, and that is what is done. Immediately every department starts putting cousin Joe, Sister Sue and Aunt Emmy on the pay roll. They get on the pay roll, and then the election is won. After the election is won, the new department head comes in, or the same department head, and when he sets up his budget for the next biennium he says, "Well, this is what I spent the past biennium. I have to have that much anyway." So, these added little jobs that have been placed on become permanent. Then, the budget necessarily is swelled for the next two years to take care of this bloated condition and that goes on and on every two years, and we raise our budget in Pennsylvania from four hundred and eighty-six million dollars to one billion two hundred and fifty-three million dollars. Sure, there are other circumstances that come into the picture. Sure, we have gone into an immense building program, but taking that into consideration we have still over a quarter of a billion dollars of fat in our pay rolls in Pennsylvania and in our underestimates of the budgetary revenues of this Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, I do not say that that is a fault that condemns the individual Members of the Senate, because I, too, have served in the majority, and I know how the hammer swings and I know how the sickle cuts, and so for fear of having Aunt Emmy and Sister Sue and Cousin Joe taken from the pay roll, you go along, but you can only go along so far. You cannot go along forever, and at this point I just want to give a few words of advice to a group in Pennsylvania whom I have always held in high esteem. I mean the school teachers as they belong to an organization called PSEA.

I received a letter the other day, signed by a man by the name of Lumley, who, as I understand it, is President of this organization. He has gone to great length to point out to the school teachers of Pennsylvania that the Democrats voted against the tax bill, and he has gone to such a great deal of expense to put down the names and the addresses of all these individuals. Then, in Legislative Letter IX—I haven't seen the first eight, and I am sorry I did not look at them because they were all about the same tenure as this. It might have changed my opinion about certain people I have respected over the years and whom I want to continue to respect if I may be allowed to. He goes on to say in this letter—just for the information of the Senate, this is the kind of pressure that causes new taxes to be placed upon the books. Speaking for the Association he says:

"Except for one Mr. Swartz"—and incidentally Mr. Swartz, I understand from the tenure of this letter, has lost caste because he voted against the tax bill—"Except for one Mr. Swartz, a Republican from Dauphin County, the speeches in opposition were by members of the minority party, the Democrats. These speeches were very interesting. It appeared as one listened that they were debating whether or not the teachers of Pennsylvania have a right to express a position on this legislation as much as they were debating the provisions of the bill. In open debate on the floor at one point, the minority leader, Mr. Andrews, criticized the executives of the PSEA. Recurring also were comments by a number of those who spoke against the bill that the teachers back home did not know—they were following blindly what they were told to do and were not familiar with the issues involved.

"It was stated that our support was based on partisan politics. May we say that we did not make the decision of the minority party to oppose this legislation."

Mr. President, I want to say this to this gentleman, Mr. Lumley, and I say it in all sincerity to him, he is wanting and requesting in the name of the teachers of Pennsylvania that we increase taxes in this State one hundred sixty-three million dollars this year; and he is giving the people of Pennsylvania the idea that the teachers are going to get this money. When the pop tax was passed, this same group insisted that the Legislature pass the pop tax, and the increased taxes on cigarettes and beer and all the other items, one hundred forty-four million dollars worth of new taxes under Duff, because the teachers had to have that money. I ask a simple question now. Out of the increase of eight hundred million dollars in the past fourteen years in Pennsylvania in the biennial budget, how much have the school teachers received? Why don't he tell the teachers how much they are going to receive out of the one hundred sixty-three million dollars?? I cannot find anything in this budget other than the mandated increases which the Legislature passed. If there is a deal, if there is a deal that if this bill gets through, if somebody in the front office has made a deal with the schoolteachers' leaders that they are going to get more money, tell us about it, and I want to tell Mr. Lumley this. There is not a Democrat in the House or the Senate that thinks the teachers are overpaid. There is not a Democrat in the House or Senate who has not voted time after time to give the teachers every advancement they have had in Pennsylvania, and I take particular pride that I was a member of this body when we voted for the greatest advancement ever given to the teachers since I have been here, the passage of the Tenure Act to protect them from politically minded school directors. We have voted one hundred per cent for the welfare of the teacher and we resent the slurring remarks and the uncalled for type of language used by this person in describing an honest vote by men who believed in what they were doing. He resents being criticized on the floor of the House. Gentlemen, maybe the day will come when I will live through a twenty-four hour day without being criticized for something, and maybe Mr. Lumley has had it too soft. Maybe he has not been criticized enough. I will criticize him openly for supporting this income tax because it is not needed. He is a teacher as I understand it. Then, why doesn't he study arithmetic? Plain, simple eighth grade arithmetic is all I had, but I can add the figures in this budget and come out with a surplus, and so can anybody else in this Senate, and so can Mr. Lumley, and so can every schoolteacher in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, we have tried time and time again to prove that pressure groups are perhaps the most dangerous new development in political government. I mean pressure groups of a different nature than the old time whiskey-drinking lobbyist. I mean these smooth, intelligent, well-dressed pressure groups that represent the various people whom we vote to put into office or into position. The Senate, for instance, could have a pressure group of its own. Sam Neff could be elected the business agent, and I am sure that Elmer Holland would be a darn good relations man for it. He could save us money, and we as a pressure group then could pressure the Governor and say, "Look, Governor, if you do not give us five thousand dollars a year, we will not pass any bills for you." That is what happens here. If you do not kneel down and do what the schoolteachers want you to do, they will vote against you, according to Mr. Lumley, and that goes for all the branches. I am going down through the line; I have lived long enough now that it doesn't matter too much any more. I mean, the pressure groups from the county commissioners and the treasurers, and all the rest of us. Let us become a pressure group and get away from this fifteen hundred dollar a year servant boy job that we have maintained for years.

Mr. President, back home they say to me—well, I think the nearest and best description I ever had of the Senate was an old Russian back home who came to me right after I was elected the first time and he said to me, "John, what do you say you give my boy, Pete, a job like you have in Harrisburg, riding a motorcycle?" I think that is the best description of the job we have down here. That is what this citizen thought it was, that I was in Harrisburg riding a motorcycle. I know that for the last seventeen years I have been on a merry-go-round, but it was not exactly a motorcycle.

Mr. President, if this Session goes home and passes an income tax in the face of the figures, in the face of the figures that are here for everybody to examine—and I will right at this moment challenge, and I am not very good at this, but I will challenge Mr. Logan if he so desires to a public debate in the Forum on the question of his figures and my figures on the need of this budget; if he is wrong, we will not pass the tax, and if I am wrong, I will resign from the Senate. That is how much I believe that I am right in my figures and my stand upon the income tax at this time. He has all the resources, he has all the figures, all the accountants, all the brains of the Commonwealth at his disposal, and I have nothing but my convictions, but I stand here and tell you forty-nine Members of the Senate that if you pass this income tax, if you do not have public hearings, if you do not delve into this thing, that you are putting upon the people of Pennsylvania an injustice that you will live to rue. You just cannot simply say, as Mr. Lumley says, that we are for broadening the tax base. You just cannot simply say that and excuse yourselves. Schoolteachers, bricklayers, hod carriers, State Senators, no citizen has a right to pass this type of legislation which can become a permanent chain, dragging progress down in this Commonwealth for the coming generation without studying every word and every figure contained in the budget.

Mr. President, I have talked to men as of recent date who are fearful of the end results of passing this legislation, and I want to say to you that the end results may not only be economic in nature, the end results may also be political in nature. I cannot see any party coming into power—and I say this advisedly—I cannot see any party coming into power and wiping such a lucrative tax base from the books, although I stand here and say to you that if you pass this tax bill, I will go before the Democratic Policy Committee and with every ounce of persuasion at my command I shall try my best to have them include in their platform a repeal of this vicious tax from the statute books as their main plank in their state platform.

For instance, what are you going to do—I might ask Mr. Lumley this since he is so interested. A few years back he came to us and asked us to pass 481 to broaden the tax base for the communities to tax everything. I do not want to take the time to get it, but I have a record here put out by the State Department. No figures are taken out of the clouds. This is something that is printed right here. The Secretary of Internal Affairs printed a book and he shows one community with forty-two different taxes. In fact, in Fayette County a little township called Bullsken Township just passed a few taxes a couple weeks ago. It was carried in the newspaper; five cents on a round of golf. Of course, that is an easy one to sell. You can tell the boys in the rool room that they do not have to pay, that the rich man pays. Five cents on a round of golf, one per cent on all real estate transfers, one per cent on all mercantile transactions of a retail nature, and a half per cent on all mercantile transactions of a wholesale nature; ten per cent on all advertising except newspapers, and I think it is ten per cent on all amusements and sporting events, including bingo. This township passed these taxes under a bill that we intelligent men passed, and this same group said that they had to have it for schoolteachers' salaries. These are passed by the township commissioners, supervisors. That is not going into the school fund.

The first tax that our town placed upon the books was an income tax. Back home we have a half per cent income tax or wage tax now, Mr. President, from the city government, and we have a half per cent coming on this year from the school board in my community, we have a tax from the Federal Government which I have heard so much about from Senator Byrd and some of the boys and now we have another one coming up from Pennsylvania.

Well, now I will tell you something and I am serious about this. It used to be that a fellow could earn a living by digging ditches. He will have to have more education now to figure out how he is earning that money and know what he is doing with it, and who he owes it to, and if he has that much education he would be a fool to dig ditches. Where are we going to get ditch diggers? A fellow who is that smart to figure out these taxes does not have to dig ditches. He is too smart to dig ditches if he is intelligent enough to figure out a half per cent for this community or that community. The funny thing about it is if you live in Community A, and you work in Community B, Community A has a one per cent tax on, and Community B has a half per cent tax on. You collect the tax from one community, divide the two and give it back to the other community, and then it gives it back to your home community. Why, of all the nutty things that was ever passed, and we ought to take the credit for being prize boobs, and I predict the day will come when 481 will be the object of a great deal more criticism than what it is now. You just cannot do it. Yes, you can do it. You have got thirty votes, but I remember not too long ago when you had thirty-five and I will live to see the day when you will not have fifteen. It will come because that is the way you dissipate. You dissipate your political strength.

Some say we are doing it in Washington. If we are doing it, then according to, what I have read in the newspapers and heard on the radio, we are doing it by the same method you are employing in Pennsylvania. The only difference is that in Washington when Mr. Taft makes a speech about the budget, the newspapers all print it out in big print, and they give him all the publicity, but we can stand here and bellow until the cows come home and once in awhile some of the papers say some one protested it.

Mr. President, one of the most interesting things to me, and I think it was a compliment and I took it as such, I read an editorial in a large paper recently, and then I read one of my speeches on the Senate Floor, and I will be darned if they just hadn't stolen my speech. They did not give me a by-line, but that is all right, but the idea was what I believe in, the sentiment I stressed, and that sentiment was that there ought to be public hearings to determine the need, to determine the honesty of the estimates. If you do not need it you ought not to pass it, and if you do need it, I will vote for it. What fairer and squarer proposal could you get from anybody?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I know that the gentleman from Westmoreland does not want to debate the tax program at this point for several reasons, most of which are very obvious to him. I would like in a few short remarks of about forty thousand words to reply to the gentleman.

Mr. President, I do not want to say a word on the floor of this Senate that would suggest directly or indirectly that I am in favor of public hearings. Mr. President, I would just like to refer the gentleman from Westmoreland to the Legislative Journal of March 26, wherein I very carefully and explicitly over and over and over made suggestions with regard to public hearings. I am very happy to get the support of the gentleman from Westmoreland on that.

As the gentlemen of the Senate know, and I am sure by this time all Capitol Hill knows, and I am certain that ninety-nine per cent of the people in Pennsylvania know because there are no secrets on Capitol Hill, Mr. President, the Finance Committee of the Senate is holding a meeting tomorrow at nine o'clock, at which time things will be discussed. The gentleman from Westmoreland is a member of that committee and so am I, and I imagine that at that Finance Committee meeting there is a grave danger that something might be said about the tax program, and maybe the things he discussed will be discussed, but, Mr. President, I know that the gentleman from Westmoreland does not want to create the impression that he was the godfather and the originator of the suggestion on the floor of the Senate that this present tax program he subjected to an inquiry, because as much as I object to winning purple hearts in political arenas, I still would like to remind the gentleman from Westmoreland that I made the statement on the floor of this Senate; it is in the Legislative Journal, it is still there to be read, and I do hope that the gentleman from Westmoreland will be at the committee meeting tomorrow. He talks about being criticized and he hopes that someday he will go through one day without being criticized. I do not want to spoil his record for today. Mr. President, he has one sore foot, and I sure do not want to tramp on the other, and I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that in spite of his sore foot I do not want to aggravate his injuries. If he will just contain his patient enthusiasm until the meeting tomorrow it may be that the results obtained and the conclusions arrived at a majority of the Finance Committee will meet with his wholehearted support, and it may be that what's more he will be speaking for the Minority and directing the Majority.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, when the Senate agreed to have a two weeks recess at the beginning of the Session, I submitted a resolution asking that the Senate during those two weeks should hold public hearings with the different bureau heads, and at these hearings find out how the money was being spent and how much more was being spent that should not be spent. I pleaded at that time, and at a little later date in a heated debate in this Senate, the Majority Leader spoke out and said to me in public that he was for a public hearing.

Now, Mr. President, we talk about hearings in the Finance Committee. First of all, I do not think there is anyone in this Senate that is capable, without having outside help of certified public accountants, of going over this budget in an intelligent manner. I think that the Senate is handicapped by not having outside sources to consult with them and advise them, and I would like to go back a little bit into the days of Governor Sproul and Governor Pinchot. A lot of Members, including Mr. Taylor, remember Governor Pinchot; Senator Wade remembers Governor Pinchot, Mr. Diehm remembers Pinchot, and Mr. Walker remembers Pinchot because he had a position under Pinchot. I remember Pinchot because my wife acted as Secretary to Mrs. Pinchot, and I supported the Pinchot administration, I must confess, myself, but if you remember at that time under Governor Sproul they secured the services of Main and Company, and after they secured these services of Main and Company, they made a complete audit of all the departments of government. They found that we were being cheated and a lot of money, millions of dollars, was being misspent and under Pinchot there was another audit made by Main and Company, and under Governor Fisher, Main and Company was brought into the picture again, and under Governor Fisher we gave power to Main and Company to install the present budget we are now using.

Mr. President, the time has come when we must have Main and Company again, and I think Main and Company should be brought into this picture, because I think they are in a position to save millions of dollars for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. They know all the indexes of business. Everyone knows that the capital stock tax and the corporate net income tax is going to show a big surplus, and if it does not show a surplus we should have one of the biggest investigations that ever was held on this Hill by the Attorney General to see who is cheating on the State Government. Even the Federal Government uses an index at the present time showing the index of improvement in 1949-1950. Using that index of increased earnings, they find that they have at this time two and one-half billion dollars more money than they had estimated in the entire year. So, therefore, our estimates made by Mr. Logan in the last Session are considerably less than the amount of monies that the corporate net income tax should be and the capital stock tax should be, and I suggest—in fact, I am going to introduce tomorrow a resolution demanding that the Senate hire the services of Main and Company, one of the finest certified public accountants in the State and one that the Republican used time and time again, one which they are using in Pittsburgh to check up on their valuable business, and I believe that we should then let us leave things as they are until they can give us a report and if they do, instead of adding taxes we will cut taxes.

Mr. President, let me read for you an editorial in the Pittsburgh Press of April 18:

"If Governor Fine gets the State income tax he is pressuring the Legislature to pass, you can make several solid 100-per-cent-right predictions.

"For one thing, that tax will grow, and grow and grow. Starting out at a modest rate of one-half of one per cent, it can go as high as the State tax-users want it—once it's on the books.

"And, at the same time, the State budget will grow and grow. The only limit on public budgets, generally, is the ability and the willingness of the taxpayers to put up the money.

"Open up a lush new field of taxation for the tax-users, and it's a case of 'Clap hands, here comes Charley'—at the taxpayer's expense. Any idea of economy—a word not very well known in Harrisburg, anyway—goes out the window.

"The most significant feature of this Fine income tax is that it's the beginning of an attempt to shift the burden of taxation in Pennsylvania.

"Historically, business has paid the main burden of taxation in the State. The depression changed that somewhat. The 'emergency' taxes of 1935 (which, by the way, still are with us) were levied both on business and on people.

"If the State income tax once gets on the lawbooks, we'll be taking a long, long step toward shifting the burden from business to people."

Mr. President, this is not a Democratic paper speaking. Mr. President, this is the paper that supported Governor Fine in the last election, and also Senator Duff.

"As evidence of that, G. Mason Owlett, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Assn. and crown prince to old Joe Grundy, was an early and whole-hearted supporter of the Fine income tax.

"Maybe there's something to the idea that we shouldn't tax business too heavily, that full employment is better than low personal taxes, and that we ought to attract new industries by light tax treatment.

"But if that's what Governor Fine is shooting at, let's hear about it. Let's have the whole thing threshed out in public hearings. Let's give everybody who wants it a say on the issue. Let's consider it as a tax shift, instead of just another tax.

"Mr. Fine's other arguments in favor of his income tax don't hold much water. He claims he needs it to fill out his $1,220,000,000 budget. But he doesn't want the Legislature to search for the economies that undoubtedly could be found in that budget.

"His estimates of revenue from existing taxes are suspiciously low, despite the experience of the Federal Government in finding itself with a surplus, instead of an expected deficit, because of bigger tax payments.

"Mr. Fine's budget also is loose enough that he can recommend dropping the soda pop tax (29 million dollars in two years) and estimate a balance of 33 million dollars at the end of the fiscal period. That doesn't sound like poverty to us.

"The Governor also views his income tax as another help in fighting inflation. Much more of that kind of help and we'll be looking around for ways to increase purchasing power."

Mr. President, may I say to the Majority Leader, that tomorrow when I present the resolution asking that Main and Company make a careful audit of the entire budget of the the different departments, I am going to ask the Majority Leader to join with me in trying to bring economy or at least no new taxes in Pennsylvania, and I am assured from the knowledge that I have received from some other public accountants in Pennsylvania and men who are acquainted with the business cycle and the corporate net incomes in Pennsylvania, that can be very easily done without any new taxes. I think we owe it to the people of Pennsylvania to air these in public hearings, to find out who are padding the pay rolls.

Mr. President, six weeks ago I asked the Department of Property and Supplies to give me a list of the automobiles that were being used on the Hill, and by whom and who were the drivers using them. I understand that they are using the whole State Police Department to act as chauffeurs for automobiles. I have also asked to have an accounting made of the expenses used in travel in Pennsylvania, both in the State and outside the State in the last two years. I have not received any report of that. I think it is a fine thing when the Department of Property and Supplies cannot give that immediately. They certainly should have a list at least of the automobiles they hold in the State name, and who are using them. I have also been told that this request is on the Governor's desk, both requests, and he refuses to leave the requests be granted by the Department head. As a Senator elected to represent my district, I am going to demand that the Governor release those requests so the Department head can give a Senator what he asks for and what he is elected to find out.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was read as follows:

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE WILLIAM J. RIDGE AND CONDOLENCE TO HIS FAMILY

In the House of Representatives, April 30, 1951.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House, which was read as follows:

On Thursday, April 26, 1951, during a week marked with tragedies, William J. Ridge, Chief Clerk of the Pennsylvania Senate, passed from this life.

Mr. Ridge was one of the owners and president of the Putman Oil Company, of Covington and was an officer and director of the Putman Sales and Service Company.

A life-long resident of Tioga County, he had been an important Republican leader in northern Pennsylvania for many years, and had served as a member of the Republican State Committee from Tioga. His warm friendship and wise counsel were extended freely to members of both parties, on the basis that we were all fellow public servants, all serving the same master.

A devoted husband and father, his wife, Hazel Winifred Johnson Ridge, his son Thomas Ridge and his two daughters, Mrs. J. Frederick Husted and Mrs. Allan Jones, will find a void in their lives, that will remain till the end of their days.

The Senate of Pennsylvania will miss a trusted and competent officer, and the members of both Houses will miss a good friend, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend our deepest sympathy to the members of the family of William J. Ridge, in this their hour of sorrow and command them courage, that they may face life as he faced it, and live as he lived, and be it further

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. JOHNSON reported from the Committee on Rules, Resolution No. 30 as committed.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 30

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Resolution No. 30.

The resolution was read considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1951.

Eugene J. Hagerty, a distinguished member from Philadelphia, is doubly blessed. His daughter, Mrs. John Casey, better known as "Our Val," has thrilled the members of the last House with her beautiful songs. In fact her singing is so melodious and captivating and her charm as a performer is so infectious that she has been invited to sing to the present House at its closing session. Mr. Hagerty is indeed fortunate in having a talented and a personable daughter, but he has been even more graciously honored by her presentation to him on January 8, 1951, of a grandson, who, after a feeble start in life has now developed into a lusty eleven pound heir apparent. The word has gone forth that young Dennis Casey will some day become as notable a singer as his mother is, provided a proper inference from his present ability to hit high C is correctly taken; thereby be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives is particularly joyous that Mr. Hagerty has become the grandfather of a splendid boy, Dennis Casey, and extends its heartiest congratulations to Mr. Hagerty on the occasion of thus extending his distinguished lineage, and be it further Resolved, That the whole hearted felicitations of this House be tendered to Mrs. John Casey and her son, with its sincere wish that happiness and health will rule their lives.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hagerty.

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the Members, and I know that young Dennis Casey in future years will cherish that resolution.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to ask either the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent or the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Stimmel what this bill does and what are the reasons for doing it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has heard the interrogation. I wanted to know what this bill does and the reasons for doing it. Not in a spirit of controversy, but purely for information.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I understand.

As I understand the present law in Pennsylvania there are certain cases in decedents' estates where the property which is left by a decedent would not be taxable under our inheritance tax laws. However, take the example of stock certificates where they are held jointly by a man and his wife and one of them were to die, that stock would not be subject to the Pennsylvania inheritance tax. But, when the survivor applies to the corporation whose stock it was, for transfer into its own name, they would have to acquire from the Department of Revenue what is known as a waiver of inheritance tax, even though no tax was payable on that particular stock.

This bill would do away with the necessity of getting a tax waiver from the Department of Revenue.

There is another instance in the law where it also applies. There are certain non-resident decedents who own Pennsylvania stock, and by reciprocal statutes in Pennsylvania and other states, that stock is not taxable. However, when the survivor of that person applies for its transfer it is necessary to supply a tax waiver from the Department of Revenue. This does away with that necessity.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, the next bill on the calendar which will be called up, 631, is in the nature of a companion bill with 624. It merely repeals an obsolete provision covering the same thing that is covered by 624.

On the question recurring,

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section six hundred eighty of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30 entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 680 List of Residents for Per Capita Tax Purposes (a) In order that the board of school directors of each school district of the second third or fourth class may assess levy and collect a per capita tax of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars on each resident or inhabitant over twenty-one years of age in the district it shall be the duty of the proper assessors in each such school district to prepare a list of residents or inhabitants in such school district over twenty-one years of age and return the same with the other taxable property in the district as provided by law In each school district all such lists of residents or inhabitants shall be included and certified in the list of taxable property to be certified to the board of school directors in each such school district as herein provided Assessors whose assessment district includes the whole or parts of more than one school district shall return separate lists of residents and inhabitants of each such school district

The board of school directors at the same time as they give public notice of a proposed budget include a notice if the requirements of this subsection together with the name and address of the assessor to be notified

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to remind the Members that this bill is the bill which we debated some time ago. It deals with the per capita tax and provides that people becoming new residents of a district or attaining the age of 21 must notify, to use the term in the bill, the "proper assessors" or else suffer a penalty.

At that time we had quite a lengthy debate. I have no desire to again go all through the arguments expressed at that time. However, I would like to remind the Members of a few salient points, since so much time has elapsed.

In the first place, there definitely, it seems to me, is considerable question as to the necessity for the bill. The per capita tax is a tax very difficult to collect.

Debate at that time established that there is a large amount of per capita taxation uncollected. To add names to the list in the manner suggested, is likely adding names which would be further uncollectable, and it was suggested at that time that the present outstanding per capita tax uncollected should be collected before anything of this sort would be attempted.

The assessors, I believe, are adequate to do their job. No evidence was given that the assessors are falling down on their job; it seems to me that our county assessors can take care of their jobs.

Then it seems to me there is also serious doubt whether this bill would be workable if passed. It refers to the "proper assessors" and yet the term "proper assessors" is not as obvious as it seems at first glance.

The sponsor of the bill upon interrogation had some difficulty in locating the proper assessors in different types of school districts. And this, remember, covers any school district, in other words, school districts of all classes. It refers to fifty or more districts which have no per capita tax but which would put the residents of that district to the necessity of notifying the assessor for no good reason whatever, since there is no per capita tax to be collected. The city of Philadelphia for example, which has abolished the per capita tax would still be under the obligation of having all its residents notify the proper assessor.

The public notice given to people that this action of notification would be required is, it seems to me, not sufficient. It simply says that notification of "proper assessors" shall be included in the notice which is given that the budget may be scrutinized by interested parties. Now that notice is just a little, tiny notice typical in the classified ad section which the ordinary person has no reason to look for, probably would over-look, and yet that person would be subject to a penalty if he failed to carry out the provisions of this bill.

And finally, the point was made that this is another of those acts of regimentation which is being put on the people. In other words, for no good reason people are being asked to sign another paper, to see another person, to register in another way with the government. It seems to me that we should be careful not to pass such legislation unless there is a real need for it. I do not believe that need exists and therefore I ask the Members to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is true that we debated this bill at length on a previous day, and had the opposition not chosen to take up some time today I am certain that I would not have said anything about it.

The arguments which applied to this bill previously have not changed. I think one of the most foolish arguments that anyone can use against a bill of this kind is the fact that there remain some uncollected taxes somewhere. The fact that there are uncollected taxes has nothing to do with the necessity of spreading the tax load over all of those who are eligible to be taxed. That is a different problem entirely. If there are uncollected taxes, and I admit there are some, then it becomes the duty and the province of the tax collecting authority to see that those people pay their taxes as well as those who have been escaping all these years.

Another mis-statement that was made against this bill is that it applied to Philadelphia. The fact is that this has nothing to do with the city of Philadelphia whatsoever, and all the gentleman needs to do is ask any of the Philadelphia delegation who have been cleared on this situation.

The fact that the assessors may be falling down on their job is one thing. Yes, I will admit that perhaps the assessors are not getting all of the people. Mr. Speaker, this is an attempt to help the assessors, not hinder them. This is an attempt to correct the situation which we know exists. The gentleman himself is in a profession which ought to be interested, ought to be definitely up here fighting for a spread of the tax base. He ought to be interested in seeing that all those who use the facilities of the public school system of this Commonwealth contribute to its cost.

We have long since passed the point where we can admit that anyone who partakes of the benefits of the government has no duty to support those functions of the government. This is just an attempt to try to correct one of these inequities.

Without any further comments, Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the Members of the House vote favorably on this measure.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to answer one statement that was made, that being the statement that it does not apply to the city of Philadelphia.

I do not know what the gentleman's source of information is. Every lawyer that I have questioned says that it clearly does include any school district, and the school district of Philadelphia is, I take it, a school district. It seems to me that "any school district" is pretty clear. I read the whole provision the last time we debated it—I do not want to read it again. I ask any Member who is doubtful about it to turn to the bill and read what it says. It says "any school district."

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to clarify the gentleman's statement. I am told by the best authority, and that would be the legal counsel of our school district, that this does not apply to the city of Philadelphia; it only applies to districts that have the privilege of putting on a per capita or head tax.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, if the sponsor of this bill will look on page three, line four it states:

"Every resident or inhabitant in any school district upon attaining the age of twenty-one years of age and every person twenty-one years of age or over becoming a resident or inhabitant in any school district shall within twelve months after the happening thereof notify the proper assessor of his becoming of age or becoming a resident or inhabitant. Any person failing within the period to notify the assessor of the school district within which he resides shall in addition to the tax levied by such school district be liable to such school district in a penal sum equal to such tax."

I am not an attorney, but I think I do understand the English language, and this paragraph plainly states "any district" and "any district" would take in Philadelphia. I do not care what any lawyer says.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, will look on page 2, Section 680, line 7, it says:

"List of Residents for Per Capita Tax Purposes."

That automatically eliminates the Philadelphia situation, or any other district not capable of levying it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

INTERROGATION

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I crave the privilege initially of interrogating the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it has been currently reported in the press that the FEPC legislation has been jettisoned, cast overboard, forgotten; it will not figure further in the affairs of this session. I would like to know whether that is the intention of the majority leadership.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can answer the gentleman by telling him that this morning in my office I had a delegation from the state FEPC group, and I assured them that I had the promise from the Chairman of the Labor Committee that he will call a meeting on the FEPC Bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman on my right suggests a question—when?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can only answer by saying that is entirely up to the Chairman. I believe he has very good intentions and I believe that it will be brought out at the appropriate time to allow the House to pass on it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader holds in trust, in fact he is the entire board of trustees on legislation in which the Members of this House are concerned. The legislation in question deals with an increase in the compensation of the membership. What is doing along that line? Is it still in the mausoleum, and what is necessary to do to roll the stone away?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the gentleman that he now has his foot in the door. That was as late as today. I do not like to discuss what has taken place, but we have considered the bill, and I will talk to the gentleman one day this week or next week sure. As a good salesman with his foot in the door, I personally hope he does not take it out.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. Would the Majority Leader tell us whether the Labor Relations Committee has yet had any meetings for the consideration of labor bills in general?

Mr. SMITH. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that the labor bills will be placed in Committee probably this week or next.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is to say up to this time the Labor Relations Committee has not been privileged to pass upon the measures that have been submitted up to this date?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not even know if the Labor Relations Committee has met up to this date. That would be up to the Chairman of the Committee to answer that question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader. Would the Chairman of the Labor Relations Committee tell the House as to whether the Committee has met for the consideration of general business?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is asking about the Committee on Labor Relations. The Committee on Labor Relations has met only for organization.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when does the Labor Relations Committee propose to meet for the consideration of general business?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, at the present time we have no schedule arranged for our meeting.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Committee, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the Workmen's Compensation Committee held any meetings for the consideration of general business?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, I would say that we had several meetings.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how many bills at the present time are pending in the Workmen's Compensation Committee?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would have to check that. I would not be able to answer that. There are a number.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, up to this time has the Committee arrived at any decision concerning any of the bills in its possession?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. We have not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how long have these bills been in the possession of the Committee?

The SPEAKER. Well, some of them came in over the week end, and some have been there longer.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would it not be in keeping with the facts to say that some of these bills have been in the keeping of the Committees since very early in the present sessions?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, we have reported out either three or four, and I would not know whether they were the older or the younger. Probably some of them have been there since early in the session.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. I would like the privilege of interrogating the gentleman from Blair, Chairman of the Education Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman from Blair knows, at previous sessions it frequently happened that the so-called teachers' bills have not been reported for action on the floor, or if reported, have remained on the postponed calendar until the final days of the session. Is that the precedent that the Committee proposes following this session?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. It is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what are the factors that prevent the Committee from arriving at a decision as to the figures the so-called teachers' bill will carry, arriving at a decision at this time and reporting the teacher's salary bill for action upon the floor?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, the only factor that enters in that I know of is the tax program.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Blair inform the House what will be the probable attitude of the Committee in the event that the tax program as submitted by His Excellency, the Governor, is finally enacted in full? To what policy is the Education Committee committed, $24 millions, $47 millions, $60 millions, or $93 millions?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, none that I know of. The Committee will act upon the bill in the light of the amount of money that we will have to spend, and that amount we do not know as yet.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, you have the estimate of the Budget Office as to the amounts that you have to spend. Is it proposed to increase the estimates that emanated from the Budget Office?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer the gentleman's question, but I shall make a statement that the requirements of the bill as they stand today, that is House Bill 334, will require much more money than the Governor put in his proposed Budget.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the flat income tax bill that has passed this House, was passed on the presumption that it would raise at least $119 millions. Federal tax experts, deemed competent to figure tax income nationally, estimate that on the basis of existing conditions, if things stabilize on the present business level, the flat income tax will raise in excess of $160 millions; that it is also a fact that at the present time corporate net income is running at a rate of from 40 to 60 percent increase over last year.

It becomes rather important that someone somewhere reach a definite decision, first as to whether the Governor's budget is right; second, if the Governor's budget is right, to tell this House and the teachers the truth now, as to whether they are going to get $27 millions, $37 millions, or an outside of limit of $47 millions.

There is no possible excuse for following the precedent set in previous years of having a teachers' salary bill actually debated on the floor of this House on the final day of the session.

The administration knows by this time what it is going to give the teachers. I would think that in view of his long term of service that the Chairman of the Education Committee would have the ear of the administration and could report a bill. On this day in '49 we were adjourning the session.

I came down the steps of the court house the other evening and a very distinguished person passing me said: "When is this General Assembly going to begin? Has anybody heard?"

Some of these measures of paramount importance concerning which commitments have been made to particular constituencies should be trotted out now and not saved until the final day and then the plea made that you have to settle on the basis of the bill as is, because there is not time to amend it; and if you amend it the bill will fall. I have been present in this House when that was exactly the excuse made on a teachers' salary bill, that if we tried to amend it, there would not be time and the whole thing would fall.

I would like to know, how long this session is going to last? What major measures are to be trotted out? I would like to know, where the program is? Who has got it?

Here we have a fiddle-fuddle calendar today. Nothing on it of merit, except maybe a bill that has to do with leases of forest lands, a very estimable measure framed by a learned Member of the House. But we have been puttering. When does the period of puttering end?

An examination of the budget shows that a number of Departments are short-changed under the budget. No one has heard me say since the beginning of this session that we were spending too much money. I simply ask for an accounting of the financial facts.

The Governor's budget does not carry enough money for the schools. The Welfare Department in the Governor's budget is short-changed by at least $11 million. There are other Departments that perhaps are given more money than they need, but Welfare and Education are definitely short-changed. It is time we knew where we were going, what we were going to do and when we were going to do it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SOLLENBERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, this is not a retort; it is an explanation. Regardless of what the gentleman from Cambria says, we cannot move school bills that require the number of millions that these two bills ask for until a tax program is through the House and the Senate. That is a goodly amount of money.

The second statement I desire to make is that the Chairman of the Committee of Education does not know at the present time the amount of money that we are going to have for our school program. If we did know we would then be acting and the bills would be reported at once.

The third reply is that there is a committee at work right now to prepare and is preparing the bills in such a manner that as soon as we know the amount of money that we will be able to have for education, they will be ready to move within a few hours.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, six years ago, both political parties of this Commonwealth committed themselves to the passage of legislation involving fair employment practices. Bills were introduced both in the Senate and the House in that Legislature. There was a great deal of excitement created, there was a public hearing, bills went to the committees of both those houses, and, as far as I can recall there was no action by that Legislature.

Mr. President, four years ago both parties committed themselves publicly in their platforms to the enactment of fair employment practices legislation. Again bills were introduced in both Houses of that Legislature and again there was no action. As a matter of fact, I think the House committee took a vote on that measure and it was afterwards discovered that the ballots that were taken in connection with the vote were missing.

Mr. President, two years ago again both parties committed themselves to the passage of fair employment practice legislation. Again bills were introduced, again bills went to the respective committees of both House and the Senate, and I do not have to tell you gentlemen, who were members of this Senate at that time, that both those bills were killed. Many of you will recall that in the Senate that was accomplished by means of a secret vote, so that the people of this Commonwealth could not tell who was in favor of the committed platform pledge and who was opposed to it.

In the last gubernatorial election again, as in the past, both parties committed themselves to the passage of fair employment practices legislation. The Governor made a number of public pronouncements that he favored it. As a matter of fact, the administration prepared a bill which the Governor said he would approve, which was approved by his Attorney General and which was introduced in the House, known as House Bill No. 55. It was referred to the Committee on Labor in the House of this Legislature. As far as I know, the Committee on Labor not only has not had a meeting to discuss this bill, but I think I am correct in saying that the House Committee on Labor has not even called a meeting. That bill was introduced on February 5. It is now almost three months since that bill has been put into the hopper.

We on this side of the house are not interested in political advantage with regard to fair employment practices. We have up to this time refrained from introducing a fair employment practices bill, being hopeful that the House would take favorable action and report the bill out of the House of Representatives, where it could receive debate, consideration and vote. However, up to this time, since no meeting has been called, since we are getting to the fading days of the Session, there is a possibility that that bill will receive no action and that the Members of the Senate of this Commonwealth will not have an opportunity to consider the bill, which the Governor of this Commonwealth said he favored. It is for that reason, without any pride in the authorship of the measure, because the bill I am about to introduce is an exact replica of House Bill No. 55 which has been approved by the Governor, and since such a measure has not been introduced into the Senate, I am offering co-sponsorship to the Republican membership of this Senate for the bill which the Governor has said he would like to have passed. Better yet, I am saying to the Republican side of the Senate that if they care to, we, as Democrats, will remove our names from the sponsorship of this bill so that they can do it themselves.

Mr. President, it is a matter which I think has had too much politics attending it for the six years it has been before us, and we want to show our good faith by being interested in the principle rather than the passage of a Democratic bill. It is for that reason, Mr. President, that I read in place, on behalf of myself, Senator Barr and Senator Leader, the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. ROSENFELD, BARR and LEADER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 590, entitled:

An Act prohibiting certain practices of discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin by employers, employment agencies, labor organizations, and others as herein defined; creating the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission in the Department of Labor and Industry; defining its functions, powers and duties; providing for procedure and enforcement providing for formulation of an education program to prevent prejudice; providing for judicial review and enforcement; and imposing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 591, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (e) of Section 2 of the act, approved the twenty-first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 626), entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class; creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment, Appeals and Review; imposing duties on certain county and city officers; abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties; and prescribing penalties," by permitting members and employees of the board to hold other offices or positions or engage in certain businesses.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CHAPMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I have directed that a pamphlet be placed on the desks of each Senator relative to the Independence National Historical Park Project, in Philadelphia. The Honorable Oscar L. Chapman, Secretary of the Interior in Washington, will speak in the House Caucus Room this evening at eight o'clock, and I invite the Lieutenant-Governor, all the Members of the Senate, employees of the Senate, newspapermen and also any friends who wish to attend at that meeting. He will talk upon this project of Independence Hall and the part the Federal Government has in developing this park in Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, a short time after we adjourned two years ago, the Republican Women of Pennsylvania met in the Penn-Harris Hotel, and in the story of its activities at that meeting, among other things, there was a statement to the effect that the women assembled at the Penn-Harris took the Legislature to task for its failure to enact legislation authorizing the sale of colored oleomargarine. As a result of that meeting, the women of Pennsylvania banded together and formed a committee for the passage of legislation to authorize the sale of colored oleomargarine. Judge Lois Mary McBride, of Pittsburgh, was named the chairman of that committee, and it has been active since its formation.

Mr. President, the Legislature met and it is now in Session. Four bills were introduced calling for the authorization of the sale and purchase of colored oleomargarine. A short time ago the Committee on Agriculture, to which Committee these bills were referred—one of the bills, my bill, co-sponsored by Senator Neff, which was approved by the Pennsylvania Medical Society, was considered by the Committee on Agriculture and all four bills were killed in committee.

Mr. President, I just want to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate that colored oleo can be purchased today in thirty-eight states of the United States, representing sixty-eight and eight-tenths per cent of the population of the United States, and this year the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Wyoming and Oregon enacted legislation authorizing the sale of colored oleo, and these States represent two and seven-tenths per cent of the population of the United States.

Mr. President, it seems silly to me, and I have so stated publicly and in the letters that I write to the women of Pennsylvania that write to me about these bills, it seems silly to me that the Legislature of Pennsylvania will say to the women of Pennsylvania, "You cannot buy colored oleo," to say to the women of Pennsylvania, "You can go to the store and you can buy it in uncolored form, and there is a little tube in the package; you take it home and there you begin to color it." I do not see why they cannot go to the store and buy it colored. I do not see why this Legislature cannot extend the same courtesy, and that is all it is, the same courtesy to the housewives of Pennsylvania that thirty-eight other states extend to the housewives and others who want to purchase colored oleomargarine.

Mr. President, it was my intention today to move to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill I introduced. However, out of respect to my colleague, Senator Kessler, who introduced a bill today, I will refrain from making that motion, and I do hope that the Senate Committee on Agriculture will meet this week yet, if not this week, next week, and report out Senator Kessler's bill. I understand that it meets all the requirements of the Federal law and it meets other requirements that are satisfactory to the oleo interests, and it is satisfactory to the housewives of Pennsylvania.

RECESS

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. SCARLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

THE HONORABLE JOHN C. BELL, JR., PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. Now that the Chair has once again found a very distinguished predecessor of mine a seat where we can ask him to rise and take a bow, the Chair takes great pleasure in asking a former Lieutenant-Governor, Governor of the Commonwealth and presently a Justice of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth, the Honorable John C. RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THAT THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES REJECT PROPOSED INCREASES IN AUTOMOTIVE EXCISE TAXES

Mr. Berger. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The President. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. Berger offered the following resolution which was twice read, and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, May 1, 1951.

Whereas, the Congress of the United States is presently considering excise tax increases on new automobiles and gasoline which are estimated to produce approximately $1,264 million, and

Whereas, this amount would be in addition to the nearly $1.5 billion presently being collected in federal automotive excise taxes, and

Whereas, the field of automotive taxation is one that historically and rightfully belongs to the states, and

Whereas, further encroachment by the Federal Government into this field of taxation would interfere with this taxing potential, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does urge the Congress of the United States to reject the proposed increases in automotive excise taxes for the aforesaid reasons, and be it further

Resolved, that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward copies of this resolution upon its passage to the Honorable Robert I. Doughton, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the United States House of Representatives; to the Honorable Walter F. George, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the United States Senate and to members of the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation.

Whereas, These problems are of such striking significance and so intricate as to warrant special and intensive attention by the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, All aspects of this rise in the aging population presents the Commonwealth with increasingly serious social and human problems; now therefore be it

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have had some letters from Mr. Graham Netting, who is the Assistant Director of the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh, as well as from Mr. Elmer M. Cheuvront, who is considered one of the experts on snakes, and especially rattlesnakes—not the kind of snakes we had in mind—and he claims this bill will lead into one of the greatest rackets that ever was perpetrated upon the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, first of all, there are people today who have collected, over a time, thousands of rattlers. The best example is in Florida. Florida passed a law giving bounty on rattlesnakes, and the result is that the following Session they had to repeal the Act, because they were shipping in rattlers from all other states in the United States, and there was no way to prove that they were not killed in Florida, with the result that they were spending thousands and thousands of dollars for snakes—not out of the bottle—that did not exist in Florida. Mr. Cheuvront warns me, as one who has spent his life collecting rattlesnakes, that if this bill is put in, he has a collection at the present time of fifty-two hundred rattlers which there is no reason why he should not turn into the State and get a dollar and a half a piece for them, and he said that is nothing compared to some of the other collectors of rattlesnakes and rattlers over a period of time.

In other words, if this bill is passed into law, we will be paying for rattlesnakes that never existed in the State of Pennsylvania but will be shipped in. For instance, take Wyoming. In Wyoming they have just collected two thousand rattlers. Now they paid for them there just by looking at the snakes. I understand, according to this letter—I am not going to read the entire letter—that he had a letter from a friend of his who had charge of the hunt in Wyoming, and he stated that they have cut the two thousand rattles off the rattlesnakes caught in Wyoming and are waiting for this bill to pass. So, there is two thousand times a buck and a half or thirty-two hundred dollars briefly, three thousand five hundred dollars, for the rattlers that were caught in Wyoming. So, I think we should not get so much rattled about this bill and vote it down.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the remarks of the gentleman remind me of the truism that no matter how repulsive or dangerous an animal or reptile may be, somebody loves it.

Mr. President, this bill was inspired by several requests from people who work in the woods in the counties of Potter, Tioga, McKean and other places, particularly the lumbermen up there who are engaged in considerable enterprises, and for a long time they have asked that a bounty be paid upon rattlesnakes which are getting quite prevalent up there in the wilds of northern Pennsylvania. Now, I do not suppose that there will be many bounties collected from the hills of Pittsburgh, but there will be considerable collected from the hills of Potter, McKean and Tioga Counties.

Now, Mr. President, so far as fraudulent bounty claims are concerned, I think that the Commonwealth has paid out quite a little money on fraudulent fox claims and fraudulent weasel claims, and if any bounty claimant wishes to collect, under the penalty of perjury, his dollar and a half for sending in some rattles or whatever method the Game Commission may prescribe for approving the bounty, that, of course, we have no means of preventing. At the same time, nevertheless, all bounty claims must be made under the penalty of perjury by affidavit, and I question very much whether the Commonwealth will be stuck a great deal by such fraudulent claims, and I think the bill merits considerable consideration at the hands of the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I forgot to add that a man who also opposes this bill is from McKean County. Bill Carpenter, Game Protector of McKean County, also opposes this bill, and he also states that he had a clean up campaign on rattlesnakes in McKean County and captured five hundred thirty-one.

Now, Mr. President, one of the greatest dangers that he failed to mention is the fact that in the State—I have seen snakes too but not in Allegheny County—just like in Ireland, we have driven the snakes out—but in shooting them, in the Spring in particular, you are going to endanger the lives of people who are going out as nature lovers to roam the woods, and the ricocheting of the bullets will endanger the nature lovers in the Spring of the year who go out and pick daffodils. Also the amateurs and the inexperienced hunters from the county Mr. Berger comes from, Potter County, are in danger of their lives by being bitten by snakes, because they do not know how to catch a snake, while men who spent their lives can catch these alive; they caught them alive to the extent of two thousand in the last World War, and they used the things they got from the rattlesnakes for medicine for the wounded soldiers. So, I would advise you not to kill all those rattlesnakes until this next war is all over, but I do not think that when you mention McKean County, it will be wise, before this bill is passed, for you to get in touch with Bill Carpenter, the Game Protector of McKean County, who can tell you more about rattlesnakes than either you or I know.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have been reminded and believe it will be well to call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to the fact that on the statute books of Pennsylvania we still have a bounty law which provides for the payment of a bounty upon Indian scalps.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I do not want to appear to be persistent, but I do want to read this editorial, because I think it is timely to read it now before the bill is considered in caucus tomorrow. I am talking about the sewage disposal bill.

Mr. President, I have read a number of editorials on the subject, but I thought this was the best one of all of the others, and I just want to read it so that it may serve as food for thought when the bill is being considered in caucus tomorrow.

Mr. President, this editorial appeared in the Allentown Morning Call on Saturday, April 28. The title of the editorial is "Sportsmen, Get Your Guns."

"One of the finest achievements in the administration of Hon. James H. Duff as Governor was the clean stream program. It was an important element and factor in the election of Mr. Duff to the U. S. Senate and of his running mate, Hon. John S. Fine, to be Governor of Pennsylvania.

"Now that program faces crippling action if a bill presented to the State Senate be passed inasmuch as it provides that municipalities and industries—the principal sources of stream pollution—shall be given an extension of two years in complying with State orders to stop the discharge of noxious wastes into the State's natural water ways.

"Like so many other matters which seek to cloak themselves in the flag or plead distress from war and rumors of war, a current excuse for a "cease-fire" order as to stream pollution is the Korean war.

"Certainly municipalities and industries cannot and will not be expected and required to clean up if there be lack of materials and labor necessary to the job and the deprivation be due to national defense preparations. But there is no immediate crisis in this respect and there is none in immediate prospect. And if there be such crisis, certainly the Governor and State departments and officials under him would find ways to ease or defer the problem for the municipalities and industries concerned.

"The entire matter has the appearance of a miserable subterfuge. It would turn back the hands on the clock of Pennsylvania progress.

"It is time for every association of sportsmen in Pennsylvania, whose numbers are millions, to be making themselves vociferous upon this matter.

"The splendid administration of Governor Duff should be followed by an equally progressive one by Governor Fine. Not one step backward should be taken. Any relaxation as to the stream cleansing program will be a step downhill."

Mr. President, I wanted to read that editorial for another reason. My name appears on the bill as reporting the bill out from committee and, frankly, I reported the bill out because I was assigned to do so by the Chairman of the Committee, and I take all assignments. In addition to that, if the bill does come up for a vote tomorrow, I want to extend my remarks.

I do want to say that in Bethlehem right now, the city in which I live, a sewage disposal plant is under construction, costing the people of the City of Bethlehem five million dollars. In the City of Easton, which is in my district, they broke ground last week for the construction of a sewage disposal plant. It is costing the people of the City of Easton a million and seven hundred thousand dollars. The people back in my district are just as much up against it financially as other municipalities, and if they comply with the law back in my district, certainly every other municipality can comply with the law as well.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Walker, is it your intention at this public hearing to advise all those that have written in that the public hearing will be held next Monday.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the gentleman has embarrassed me. He is referring to a matter to which I am not wed. I will be very glad to identify the young lady in the search, and if he will direct his inquiry to the very distinguished gentleman from Luzerne, the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, I am certain that the information he will give him will be complete and satisfactory.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, just a moment before I direct it to the illustrious gentleman from Luzerne—we are co-sponsors of a bill that is being buried. Mr. Walker, would you consent or have we any means of financing and bringing Main and Company down to this public hearing so that we can present our case in a more intelligent manner?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I say for the information of the Senate that the gentleman from Allegheny has been trying, I give him at least an A for persistence. He has been trying, ever since the rumor spread that Main and Company made a search for water, to get those figures. He has even gone to the length of saying that he had them and, Mr. President, may I say that if I have any information which I think would be constructive and enlightening, I will make and have made arrangements to present that information at the hearing at the time and place announced by the clerk when the announcements were read.

Now, Mr. President, if the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, wants to enter into the problems of hiring Main and Company, he is on a venture of his own, and I will not co-sponsor such a venture.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny agree that if we bring Main and Company down here at my expense that they will be given the right to question the budget of Pennsylvania and interrogate Doctor Logan?

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I think that is getting pretty far afield. I have no idea what Main and Company would do if they came down.

Mr. HOLLAND. I have, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, then the gentleman is in possession of the answers before he frames the question? I cannot answer for Main and Company, Mr. President. What he is trying to do, of course, is to find out whether or not I am going to bring them down there, and his next question is going to be, "If you bring them down, Senator Walker, will they lift the co-called iron curtain that you have lowered on me in my attempt to find out what they did find out?"

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, to clear up this muddle, are you going to bring them down, Senator Walker? Senator Walker, are you going to bring Main and Company down?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, it is a good question. I am glad the gentleman asked it.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I guess the refusal to answer is in the negative. I realize, as Majority Leader, he would not like to bring down a corporation that would show up the budget. I wish you could get the permission of the Governor between now and Saturday. I will pay the expenses down, Mr. Walker, for your benefit.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny that he attend the hearing on Monday at nine o'clock in the morning, Daylight Saving Time, and if, when the shades are being drawn at the completion of that hearing, there is any further information or enlightenment that the gentleman from Allegheny would like to have shed upon this troublesome fiscal problem of Pennsylvania, I will be glad to cooperate with him. At this point, I have no intention of telling him or anybody else on the Minority side what I propose to do.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Wood.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Senator Wood, have you notified the different groups that have asked for public hearings that there will be a public hearing on Monday?

Mr. WOOD. I have not as yet, Mr. President. It was impossible to notify them until we had the bill in the Senate. Mr. Holland and his colleagues were at the meeting this morning, at which time it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that we would not consider the tax program for a hearing until we had all of the bills present; that when the bills were available to us, we would ask representatives of the various groups who had written in for a public hearing to be present. That will be done promptly.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, is it the intention of the Chairman of the Finance Committee to go into the different departments and see if the departments' estimates are increased greatly and bring the department heads in at this hearing for questioning?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I believe that the distinguished Chairman of the Appropriations Committee has been having hearings for the past several weeks, at which time he has asked all of the members of the various departments, boards and commissions to come in and present their case.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, that is all, but I have attended a number of those hearings and those hearings are not accurate enough as public hearings. I believe that the department heads should be brought in so that we get a public hearing, and the press will be there, so that we can ask certain questions as to why they have such a large budget, and what they are doing with the budget.

Mr. President, I have some letters that I received today from some of the employees of the State, who informed me that it might be well to bring the heads of the departments in, and under oath ask them if all of the men who are on their pay rolls report for work. I think it should be done at this hearing.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, May 2, 1951, at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:09 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, May 2, 1951, at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Emanuel J. Hoover, guest chaplain, Pastor of The Quickel's Lutheran Charge, York, and guest of the gentleman from York, Mr. Bear, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, our Heavenly Father; we approach Thee with the feeling of our responsibility to Thee and to the people who have chosen us as their legislative representatives; we pray Thee to bless us and guide us in all our deliberations and transactions that through the same we may perform Thy will and serve Thy people. Give us the faith to believe in the rightness of democracy and the ultimate triumph of righteousness in our world.

We pray for the bi-focals of faith, that we may not only see the darkness and despair of our present hour, but that we may also see, farther along the way, the perfection of Thy plans for us and our world.

We pray Thy rich blessing upon the Governor of this our Commonwealth and all others who serve us in executive capacity. We pray Thy further rich blessing upon the President and executive leaders of our beloved America. As a nation and as a Commonwealth, forgive our corporate, state and national sins, and lead us continually into the pathways of peace and world brotherhood. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FILO. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 36.

In the House of Representatives, April 18, 1951.

Whereas, The Territory of Hawaii has been part of this nation since 1898, and became a territory in 1900, and, although deserving, has not been granted Statehood since that time; and

Whereas, This Territory has shown the stamina, ingenuity and vitality of its population who have fashioned a productive economy and vacation wonderland from islands largely volcanic and coral in their inception; and

Whereas, The principal industries of producing sugar cane and pineapples have in recent years been supplemented by, and in the future may be far surpassed by productive ranches and dairies which already have done much to make this Territory largely self-sustaining; and

Whereas, Silk, cotton, tobacco, rubber, vanilla, potato, wheat and flour industries may be enlarged as the various islands reach new heights of development; and

Whereas, The Territory of Hawaii, its islands stretching in a strategically important position almost equidistant from the continents of North America, South America, Asia, and Australia, heralds the far flung frontiers of this nation, and betokens us to admit it to full fledged membership in our great nation which in the past has exemplified its greatness by embracing territory from the rugged rock bound coast of Maine to the shores of southern California which are bathed by the calm, warm waters of the beautiful Pacific Ocean; and

Whereas, It is of utmost importance to this great nation to grant the magnificent benefits of self government inherent in Statehood on this, its distant island possession; therefore be it

Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to confer full Statehood upon the Territory of Hawaii within the framework of the Constitution of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officer of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. FILO. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 37.

In the House of Representatives, April 18, 1951.

Whereas, The Territory of Alaska has assumed an increasingly greater and more important role in our national life throughout the years since it was purchased on October 8, 1867; and

Whereas, The industries of Alaska have shown wide diversification, and the thought of salmon fisheries, fur seals on the Pribiloff Islands, and the rich gold fields of the Yukon have long connoted wealth, industry and a hardy population working endlessly to achieve personal and national success; and

Whereas, The late World War made household words of such names as the Bering Sea, Aleutian Islands, and Attu Island; and

Whereas, This nation must, in order to keep abreast of the fast pace of modern development, incorporate its sturdy northernmost territory into its national federation as a full member; and

Whereas, The cost of governing Alaska will no longer be largely a burden of the national government, but will be assumed to a great degree by the freedom loving citizens of Alaska, upon the assumption of Statehood by that Territory; and

Whereas, It is a matter of vital concern and national honor to grant a large degree of self-government to strategically important areas in these times of worldwide disruption, fear, and emergency; and

Whereas, By incorporating Alaska into this nation as a full partner with the other forty-eight states, the United States of America will present to the world a new and tangible sign of the unity of our nation and the high development of our modern means of transportation and communication, as well as our enlightened social outlook in granting equal political rights to a deserving political, governmental and economic entity, which has done much to earn equality with the forty-eight sovereign states of this nation; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to admit the Territory of Alaska to full Statehood within the frame work of the United States Constitution; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order to determine whether or not to ask permission of the House to offer an amendment to this bill, I would like to address an inquiry to the Majority Leader and the Chairman of the House Education Committee, either one or both.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Majority leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. If the question, Mr. Speaker, is pertaining to anything that is in the Committee on Education I will yield to Mr. Sollenberger, the Chairman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Blair, with the concurrence of the Majority leader, assure this House that if this bill is enacted and all of the other tax measures that have passed the House are finally enacted, that there will be sufficient funds available to make it possible to meet the minimum and maximum schedules in the teachers' salary bill.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria used one word that I think is not quite fair to me. He used the word "assure." I should like to reply that we have hopes that if the entire tax program is enacted into law there will be sufficient money to carry out the provisions of House Bill 334.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Does the Majority Leader concur in the statement made by the gentleman from Blair that as far as meeting the provisions of the teachers' salary bill all the majority has at the present is a hope?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if the Chairman of the Committee on Education who has full knowledge of that bill made that statement, I will assure the gentleman, yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that all we have to depend upon is a hope, for the purpose of making assurance doubly sure, I ask permission of the House to offer the following amendment to House Bill 841.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 16, line 4, by striking out the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof: six

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 16, line 10, by striking out the word "five" and inserting in lieu thereof: six

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have no intention of debating this amendment at any length. I know from the correspondence that I received that many, many teachers in the Commonwealth were led to believe, not by the gentleman from Blair and not by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Majority Leader, but they were nevertheless led to believe that if the tax program as proposed by the administration was enacted, it would be possible to finance the provisions of the teachers' salary bill.

That belief upon the part of the rank and file of the teachers was one of the motives that led them to sponsor a state-wide campaign to further the enactment of the flat income tax.

We now come to the stage where all that the teachers have is a hope. In 1949 they had a hope; it turned to be a hope deferred. In 1947 they had a hope; it turned to be a hope deferred. In 1945 they had a hope; it turned to be a hope deferred. So I am proposing in order that there may be no doubt whatsoever that the implied promises made for and on behalf of this Legislature by the leaders of the PSEA of this Commonwealth, that those promises may be redeemed, that the rate of tax carried by the corporate net income bill which now stands at five, be raised to six. The bill raises the schedule from four to five.

The estimate is that the increase carried in the bill will bring in $44 million. The increase that I propose will bring in an additional $44 million and will place the Commonwealth, the administration, and the General Assembly in a position to finance maximum and minimum salaries for teachers on a level with the competitive states that surround us.

Present maximum and minimum teachers' salaries are disgracefully low. They are not on a level that stimulates or induces young people to enter the teaching profession as a career. If we are going to do something for the schools, make certain that you attract talent into the teaching profession. Therefore, I am submitting the amendment that I have offered upon the basis of its merits.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that we feel on this side of the House, that we can give additional money to the teachers as we have promised. We can keep our promises of the present; we can keep our promises of the past. With the income tax and a one percent corporate net income tax we will have sufficient money to do that.

I think the gentleman should be reminded that industry is definitely the life blood of this state. We in Pennsylvania are one of the greatest industrial states in this country. We have done everything possible to attract new business, but there is a law of diminishing returns.

I would also like to remind the gentleman that today Pennsylvania industry is paying approximately dollar for dollar, the entire cost of the education program of our state, and I do not think we should kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Lovett and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the Majority Leader on the merits of the bill?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman a question that may not be exactly on the merits of the bill, but it may be important to the House.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to agreeing to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOVETT. No, that is all right, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman tell the House why we recommitted this bill last week?

Mr. SMITH. Well I think I gave the reason at the time Mr. Speaker, I said for further study.

Mr. LOVETT. And who was supposed to give the bill further study?

Mr. SMITH. The usual procedure would be for the Committee to give it further study.

Mr. LOVETT. I attended the only meeting of the Committee that had that bill.

Mr. SMITH. Did the gentleman study it, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. LOVETT. The Committee did not study it.

Mr. SMITH. Did the Members of the Committee study it?

Mr. LOVETT. Not that I know of.

Mr. SMITH. Well I would say that are rather negligent then; they should have studied it. I know that some of them took it home, Mr. Speaker, to study it over the weekned.

Mr. LOVETT. What very important thing in the bill was there to study, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SMITH. I would say the entire bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. What does the entire bill do?

Mr. SMITH. Well I think that the gentleman, a member of the committee, is negligent in not knowing what the bill does. The bill increases the corporate net income one percent, making it now five percent.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman think it was necessary for a committee to study the fact that we were increasing it one percent?

Mr. SMITH. It sometimes may be, Mr. Speaker. Because as I said we cannot afford to kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman tell this House, Mr. Speaker, that his intention last week in recommitting this bill was for further study and possibly increasing or decreasing the amount?

Mr. SMITH. I do not believe that I said increasing or decreasing the amount, Mr. Speaker; I believe I said the bill was to be recommitted for further study.

Mr. LOVETT. And if we did study the bill, Mr. Speaker, would we increase or decrease?

Mr. SMITH. Well I do not know, Mr. Speaker. That would be entirely the prerogative of the Committee to make a change in a bill before it appears on the floor of the House. If the Committee thought there were no increases or no decreases needed, I would presume then that they would see that the bill would be in proper form to be presented again on the floor of the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Ways and Means committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Hall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALL. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee tell us, when this bill was recommitted to his Committee, was it his understanding that the Committee was supposed to re-study this bill?

Mr. HALL. I concur with the Majority Leader that the bill was recommitted for further study, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman feel, as Chairman of the Committee, that the Committee acted in good faith and gave it further study?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the Majority Leader served notice on the House, particularly the Committee membership, that the bill was being recommitted for further study, and I trust that the members of the Committee gave it further study.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

I am heartily in favor of this bill and intend to vote for it. But I feel in my heart that there was some other reason rather than further study of this legislation when it was recommitted. I have tried to bring that information to the floor of the House very unsuccessfully. So, therefore, I will support this bill whole-heartedly.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentleman and further assure him that there has been no collusion on this side.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 486, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 1449) entitled "An act establishing a court of record in the county of Allegheny for control care guidance treatment trial placement and commitment of delinquent neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging delinquency neglect or dependency of children defining the jurisdiction and powers of the court and regulating procedure therein providing for the transfer thereto of certain powers functions and duties from other courts providing for the election of judges thereof the appointment of probation officers other necessary staff officials and assistants providing for housing of same and providing for detention facilities making the contributing to or encouraging of the delinquency neglect or dependency of children a misdemeanor and providing penalties" by allowing appeals to the county court of Allegheny county and superior court and regulating the procedure therefor

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 486, Printer's No. 220, was introduced by my colleagues, Mr. Greer and Mr. Jones, from Allegheny County. I knew at the time this bill was introduced, it was introduced with the utmost sincerity and that it was a good bill. I happen to be a member of the Judiciary Committee, and I had the privilege of being a member of the subcommittee on Judiciary.

We took the Committee and held a meeting in the Allegheny County court house approximately two months ago on a Saturday afternoon. We discussed the merits of this bill. We made many textual changes in the bill. We thought then that it was a sound bill.

The bill was brought back and committed, and put on the floor from the Judiciary Committee. From then on it has received much publicity; much opposition. Again there were changes made in the bill. The bill was amended, so that it left but one article in the bill, and that was the appeal from juvenile court to the county courts. Again the bill received much publicity.

From the time that the bill was first introduced there were many in favor of the bill. But due to the opposition and publicity there were many votes changed. So therefore I feel that this bill should be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman make such a motion?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, as the co-sponsor of this piece of legislation, I consider it my duty to point out what we seek to accomplish.

It is true, as the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt, has just said, that the bill in its original state provoked a lot of controversy. For the past several weeks we have been working on this bill in an effort to have it made acceptable to all those who were affected, and we have sought to accomplish the original purpose that we intended to accomplish. All that is left in House Bill 486 now is whether or not a person wishing to take an appeal from the decision of the Juvenile Court of Allegheny County, should go to the State Superior Court or whether it should be passed on by the judges of the County Court in Allegheny.

It seems to me, if we are agreed that an appeal should lie, and I believe that we are, the advantages in having an appeal passed on by our judges of the County Court means simply this; rather than wait six months for the Superior Court to come to Allegheny county or on account of the expenses that would be involved in leaving Allegheny county and going to Philadelphia where the Court might be in session, we can facilitate the appeal by having it heard by the judges on our local bench.

There is another provision in the bill, and I do not believe that it is understood. Three judges of that court have to decide first whether or not an appeal will be granted. After they have refused a petition that is filed with them with the court en banc and they examine the merits of the case then permission is given to file an appeal.

Now to say that the judges of the County Court are not competent; certainly it is not a fact. Judge Gunther who is now on the Superior Court, only a few months ago was one of the judges of our County Court. A former Member of this House, Homer Brown, is now sitting on the County Court bench. And those of you here who know him, and know his personal qualifications, certainly would not object to his passing on an appeal from the Juvenile Court.

Our efforts in this bill are to facilitate an appeal from the Court. There have been boasts made that in seventeen years there has not been an appeal taken from the Juvenile Court. I say to you as a practicing attorney, that it is not because that court is infallible; it is only because of the hardship and the inconvenience that is involved in taking an appeal to Superior Court; that is the fundamental reason why no appeals have been taken.

I ask you in all fairness, if you believe that an appeal should be made accessible, if you want to facilitate the appeal of the juveniles who need this protection, I ask you not to recommit the bill, but let us vote one way or the other on it. Either vote it up or vote it down.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I say with all deference to Mr. Jones, my co-sponsor on the bill, Mr. Wilt has made the motion on my behalf.

My position on this bill is this: I certainly do not agree in any way with the opposition that has been raised against the Juvenile Court bill. I have felt that may be it would have been better at the time this Legislature provided for an appeal, not to provide for an appeal at all, because none has been used. Then we would possibly have had a better argument for taking an appeal.

However, under the circumstances, under the opposition that has arisen since the bill has come out on the floor and believing that to send the bill in to utter defeat is defeating an issue that I think should be kept alive, I support the position of Mr. Wilt, in due deference to Mr. Jones' position.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOOD. Mr. Speaker, in regard to House Bill 726 now before you, it is a simple measure correcting an obvious injustice. We do not debate nor do we feel the merits of House Bill 481, or any part of it are involved in this bill.

When House Bill 481 became a law in 1947 for some unknown or at least publicly unknown reason second class townships were excluded from its provisions. They are the only class of local governments so excluded.

We now representing these citizens, those of us especially from second class townships, are asking you to end this discrimination and in the name of simple justice to those of us in the 1513 townships, that you support this measure.

We do not feel that this power will be exercised by many of these townships, but those who do need it, ask your support to end this discrimination by passing House Bill 726.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 726 extends the power of Act 481. While I have continually opposed Act 481 and the enactment of that bill during the last session of the Legislature or previous sessions of the Legislature, I agree with the gentleman that there is some discrimination in regard to second class townships. That is the only reason why I would support this bill.

In supporting this bill I hope that the time will come in this session of the Legislature when we can repeal Act 481 and then there will be no discrimination of anybody. For that reason and that reason alone I am going to support this bill.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 362, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1379) entitled "An act creating in counties of the third class a board for the assessment and revision of taxes providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners providing for their salaries payable by the county abolishing existing boards defining the powers and duties of such board regulating the assessment of persons property and occupations for county borough town township school and poor purposes authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors a solicitor engineers and clerks providing for their compensation payable by such counties abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessors so far as the making of assessments and valuations for taxation is concerned and providing for the acceptance of this act by cities" by authorizing the payment of additional compensation to subordinate assessors by the boroughs townships and school districts in which he makes assessments

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one

(P. L. 1379) entitled "An act creating in counties of the third class a board for the assessment and revision of taxes providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners providing for their salaries payable by the county abolishing existing boards defining the powers and duties of such board regulating the assessment of persons property and occupations for county borough town township school and poor purposes authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors a solicitor engineers and clerks providing for their compensation payable by such counties abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessors so far as the making of assessments and valuations for taxation is concerned and providing for the acceptance of this act by cities" as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1848) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 The said board shall divide the county into convenient districts which it may change as occasion may require and shall appoint subordinate assessors for said districts The subordinate assessors shall receive such compensation as the salary board shall fix which salaries shall be paid out of the county treasury In addition to the compensation so fixed and paid by the county any such subordinate assessor may be paid by any borough township or school district in which he makes assessments such compensation as may be authorized by the taxing authorities of such political subdivision who are hereby empowered to make such additional payments as they may from time to time by ordinance or resolution prescribe The said board shall also have the right to appoint an engineer or engineers and such clerks at such salaries as the salary board of the county may allow for the proper discharge of the duties of said board which salaries shall be paid out of the county treasury

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if there is anybody who can explain the purpose of this bill or just what it does. For the information of the Majority Leader it is Senate Bill 362, Printer's No. 114 on page 9 of the calendar.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, this bill simply adds to an assessor's income from various other sources in the county. I will read the additional paragraph.

"In addition to the compensation so fixed and paid by the county any such subordinate assessor may be paid by any borough township or school district in which he makes assessments such compensation as may be authorized by the taxing authorities of such political subdivision who are hereby empowered to make such additional payments as they may from time to time by ordinance or resolution prescribe."

In Montgomery County at the present time we have a certain salary fixed for the sub-assessors. That is fixed by the salary board. Where a man is on full time that is generally not adequate, so to supplement that salary we have been following the custom of allowing him to work for the school board for any other adjacent political sub-division, and compensation has been fixed by ordinance. That is the practice in the county, and we seek only to legalize it by this bill. This only affects third class counties, by the way.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Andrews,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceed to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 705, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 534) entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables" by defining the jurisdiction of deputy constables

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 534) entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That on and after the passage of this act the sole power to appoint a deputy constable or constables in any ward borough or township shall be vested in the constable of such ward borough or township subject to the approval of the court of quarter sessions as provided by law and that no person shall be appointed as a deputy constable unless he shall be at the time of his appointment a bona fide resident of the ward borough or township for which he shall have been appointed and shall continue to be a bona fide resident for the time during which such appointment is made and it shall be unlawful for any such deputy constable to exercise any powers or duties relative to or arising out of any case or action originating in or brought before the court of any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace outside of the ward borough or township in which such appointing constable was elected

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the gentleman would consider holding this bill over for tomorrow's session?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I will not.

Mr. FILO. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor tell us just what the body of the bill contains.

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a deputy constable bill. First, for a deputy constable to be appointed, the elected constable must go into the court of Allegheny County and petition the court that he is in need of a deputy constable. The procedure is that he usually takes the squire or alderman with him who also says that he does have work for the additional deputy. Whether it be one deputy or two deputies or ten deputies, the court in good faith appoints these deputies because he has been requested by the elected constable of that ward. After these constables are appointed, instead of working for the alderman or squire who has them appointed, he seeks work from various squires and aldermen all over the county.

My bill says if this squire or alderman appoints them through his elected constable, that is where they should work. It does not cut down the jurisdiction of where he is allowed to go in the county to serve the warrant. All it does is say that the deputies that have been appointed must work for the alderman or squire where the elected constable had him appointed.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman not a constable, an elected constable?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, does he have deputies working for him?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, does he as a constable work for the squire or the justice of the peace in his particular borough or district?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, when possible.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how many constables or deputy constables would be affected by this bill in the state of Pennsylvania? There are a lot of them who are working for a living as deputy constables; how many would it affect in the state?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I could not answer that question.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me approximately how many deputy constables it might affect in Allegheny County alone?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the truth is not known. I believe there is no one who can answer that question of how many deputies we have in Allegheny County, only the constables themselves and their association.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I can inform the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that there are approximately 300 deputy constables in Allegheny County alone, the majority of whom make their living just as deputy constables.

Is there any particular reason why the gentleman thinks these deputy constables should work in their own district? I understand there are several kinds of deputy constables, that their work varies in particular fields, and that some are in exclusive fields. Now what would be the reason to limit these deputy constables?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that is in the first place, if the elected constable has a squire or alderman in that particular ward, borough or township who did not need those constables in the first place, I do not think they should ever have been appointed. There must be some reason to appoint them if he swears in court that he needs them and he does not use them.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was elected as a constable. He can go throughout the entire state of Pennsylvania, is that not correct?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that is, I can go in Allegheny County only, and the only way, if I am correct, that a man can go out of his county to serve a paper as a constable is by permission of the district attorney.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, yet he would limit the deputy constable within his own district. Why?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I did not say as far as his powers are concerned. I am located in the township where I am elected and I assure you I do not go out of my township.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is one exception.

I do not want to extend this debate. I think the bill may have some merit, but on the other hand we are going to have a lot of deputy constables throughout Allegheny county and throughout the state that are going to be without jobs if this bill should go through. And I think we should look at it that way, and see that we do not jeopardize someone's job.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to question the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Wilt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the sponsor is a member of the Minor Judiciary of Allegheny County? That is their association?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I have to answer that this way: In Allegheny County the Minor Judiciary is separate from the constables' association. In the first place I think, and I am almost sure of this, because I have been a member of the Minor Judiciary—the only way that a constable can become a member of the Minor Judiciary is only as an associated member. But, to the second part of the question, we do have a constables' association in Allegheny County, of which I am a member.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further if he has taken up this bill, if it has been discussed in that association, and if he will give the House the benefit of the decision that the group affected reached.

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I shall answer that question this way: In the township which I represent there are two elected constables. The man that was elected at the time that I was went, as he told me and which I requested him to do, before the constables' association, and asked them about this bill, and he came back to me with the information that they would leave that up to their legislative body.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to question the sponsor further. Is he aware of the fact that for the last three weeks there has been a delegation down here from that organization to oppose this particular piece of legislation?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer that question also. I am aware of that and let me assure you that in those three weeks the first time those gentlemen ever approached me was this week.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, well now that the gentleman has been approached, will he tell the House please, what their attitude was, so that we will be in a position to know?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, they asked me if I would withdraw my bill, and I informed them that I would not.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, one last question and I am finished.

I think we are correct in assuming that the gentleman from Allegheny when he proposed this bill, had certain abuses in mind that he sought to correct. I think they ought to be enumerated on the floor of the House. I think that is the best way to determine whether or not this is good or bad legislation. If there are abuses that he seeks to correct as a result of the present system and he wishes to change the status quo, so to speak, I think he ought to inform every one of the Members here, because from what I gathered, we have been somewhat hesitant about changing things unless it is for the better. I would like to know what the gentleman seeks to do by this bill, the abuses that are prevalent now that the bill will correct.

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, first I would like to state that last Sunday I was invited to the Constables' Association, in fact I was invited, but bought two tickets—so nobody thinks I went there free.

At that particular meeting I was taken to task by an alderman of Allegheny County.

In the first place, he told the audience that a Member of the Legislature was there and I had presented a bill to tear down the constables, squires and magistrates association. I sat at the table and I listened to all these conversations and speeches.

He said: "I want to tell you folks that this bill has three strikes on it already. First, the man did not come before the Constables' Association to ask them if they were in favor of it; second, he did not come before the Magistrates' Association to ask those folks if they were in favor of it and third," I think his remarks were "they did not think it was my own bill."

I assure every Member of this Legislature that it is my own bill. I had the bill prepared myself by the Legislative Reference Bureau.

As far as his question is concerned if I know of any abuses in the county as to deputy constables, I think the man has answered that question himself when he told you that Allegheny County has approximately 300 deputy constables and they are all fee jobs.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman concluded? Is that the extent of the abuses that he wishes to point out?

Mr. WILT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, when I asked the gentleman, the sponsor of this bill, to give us his reasons, I did not ask that question facetiously but in an honest effort to get the truth. I believe if he had given us some light we would all have been in a better position to vote on it.

I know this: so far as the individuals connected and affected by this piece of legislation, they all have been passed on by the Court of Quarter Session in our county. The need for their appointment was passed upon.

If an alderman were to go in and ask for additional help, it is predicated on a basis of need, and to say that that constable must work for that man does not take into consideration a change in the volume of work that might affect a particular office. If a man is engaged in this work as a livelihood,—and we do have a need for constables,—to say that he can only work for an alderman that has no work can amount to telling him that he does not have a job.

I have listened in all fairness and I hate to take issue with the gentleman as we have been together on so many questions; but he has not, I submit, given us any reason why we should vote for this bill, and because of the untold confusion that will follow in the wake of its passage, I respectfully ask the House to vote it down.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, as co-sponsor of the bill, I want to point out several things.

In the first place, if there is any confusion about whether a deputy constable is restricted in his activities, let me point out that he is not restricted so long as he works in the borough or township where he is appointed. The only restriction is that he cannot run into some other person's neighborhood and carry on his constable service in another territory.

Now let me point out that when we have an elective system for constables throughout this Commonwealth, whether it be criticized or whether it be not criticized, let us look at its virtues. When a constable is elected in a particular district, he is elected because the makers of our government felt that a constable should be responsible in the territory wherein he was elected.

The deputy constable system, as it now stands and what it has grown into, is a system whereby from the first ward of the city of Pittsburgh a deputy constable can be appointed by people who do not know anything about the township of, let us say, Pine. That deputy constable has the authority to do work for a squire in the township of Pine. Now that is in direct defiance of the system of election of constables, because if you have a constable in that district who is not active enough, a deputy constable can go up there, and he is not responsible to those people. Nobody cares if he mistreats anyone or acts wrongfully, which sometimes human beings will do. He is not responsible; he still has his own job down in the first ward of the city of Pittsburgh.

This is another important point. If we are going to elect constables, let us elect them. If we are going to appoint them, then appoint them; but appoint them from the district wherein they are supposed to serve.

If this bill goes through, and it should, then a constable cannot run into somebody else's neighborhood where he knows nobody, and is responsible for his actions, unless the case or cause of action originated in his own borough or township. He can go anywhere in the county so long as it originates in the place where he was appointed; but he cannot run somewhere else and take cases that originated in other districts. I hope that helps to clarify any points.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I am more confused than ever, because I submit to you that Mr. Geer's position is not similar to that of Mr. Wilt's.

A constable can go into another district, if I understand the terms of this bill, and work. The only difference is whether or not he has to work for the constable who appointed him originally. There is nothing to circumscribe his sphere of operation now, so to speak. He can work anywhere in Allegheny County.

I submit to you and I want to ask this question further from the sponsor of this bill, if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman point out to this House, the jurisdiction of the squire or the justice of the peace? Cannot he take informations from anywhere, originating anywhere within the county?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, that is correct; but he is elected.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker is not a constable elected, too?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I did not limit the jurisdiction of an elected constable.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Well, does he mean to tell the House now that he wants an elected constable to have certain rights and privileges, but he wants them to be denied to his deputies? Is that the gentleman's position?

Mr. WILT. My bill says the jurisdiction of a deputy constable—

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. I will ask the question again, perhaps the gentleman did not understand me. Is it his position that the elected constable should have jurisdiction anywhere in the county, but that jurisdiction should be denied his deputy?

Mr. WILT. That is correct.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. What would be the advantage, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILT. I want to point out that the constable first is elected. I did not curtail his working. The only curtailment is placed upon the deputy constable, for the simple reason the elected constable goes into court and takes the stand in court that he has need for these deputy constables in that particular ward, or that particular alderman or justice of the peace.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Well, Mr. Speaker, I see no reason why we should prolong the debate. I submit to you that if we grant jurisdiction throughout the county to the elected constable, then to facilitate the work of the elected constable and the constable who is his deputy, the same privileges should be extended to the deputy constable. I have failed to gather in any of the remarks that have come from the sponsors of this bill any situations that they seek to correct by this piece of legislation, and I ask the House again, rather than to have untold confusion, let it remain in status quo.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the discussion and I am somewhat confused at this point. I have heard all the discussion emanating from representatives of the county of Allegheny, but it is my understanding from the discussion that this bill applies to all counties.

I would like briefly to interrogate the sponsor. I would like just to clear up that situation.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wilt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that this bill will apply to constables in all counties?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, to deputy constables in all counties.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, to deputy constables in all counties. I would like to ask the gentleman this question. Much has been said of the difficulties in Allegheny County, and hints have been made that the situation there is bad. Does the gentleman from Allegheny County contend that this situation which he deplores in Allegheny is also prevalent in the other counties in the Commonwealth?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer that question this way: If they would check on the lobbyists who are lobbying against this bill, they would find out where they are from.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I have no knowledge of the lobbyists. I have very seldom been approached by lobbyists. I do not know much about them; but my question to the gentleman is this: Does he believe that the condition he describes as deplorable in Allegheny County also exists in other counties, York County that I come from, and other counties?

Mr. WILT. Mr. Speaker, I do not mean that the situation exists in other counties.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman want to inflict this restriction on the deputy constables in our other counties then, in the light of the fact that he does not believe that we have a serious condition?

Mr. WILT. I may answer that, Mr. Speaker, in this way: In any other way the bill would be unconstitutional.

Mr. SEYLER. In other words, Mr. Speaker, I take it that this is a special piece of legislation, but must be expressed in general terms in order to be constitutional.

Up to now I have been kind of neutral, but at this point, Mr. Speaker, I have the opinion very strongly that this is a special piece of legislation intended for a situation in Allegheny County, but which will incidentally inflict itself upon all the other counties. On that ground I feel that I must oppose the bill.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. Listening to these arguments, I am very much confused but I have some arguments of my own in mind.

I understand the problems of a deputy constable. The deputy constable is appointed by the court upon recommendation of an elected constable.

First of all, a deputy constable is just like any other person who is trying to make a living, whether he is a lawyer, a doctor, a laborer, or a coal miner; he has to make a living. Sometimes it so happens in a squire's office or the office of a justice of the peace that there is too much work for the elected constable. It sometimes happens that the elected constable does not feel well, so they have to have a deputy constable appointed. Maybe there is not enough work in that squire's office to have this deputy constable make a living and therefore, he has to go outside to other offices and do constable work also.

It also happened one time I recall that a squire became ill. He could not handle the cases, so his cases were handled by another squire. They were all transferred to another squire's office and his deputy constables also did the work from that office.

Now it helped these deputies, to make a living. There are some really good deputies. I think they are doing good service to the state and to the county, and I do not think we should curtail their possibilities. For that reason I rise in opposition to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mrs. MARKLEY and Messrs. STIMMEL and VAN SANT offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1951.

Another distinguished and very popular statesman has made the inevitable last bow to his earthly friends and scenes.

On April 25th, Harry J. Smith, more affectionately known as "Candy," quietly passed away at the Allentown Hospital.

Mr. Smith's saga of life's adventures and vicissitudes reads like a page from Horatio Alger. From youthful poverty and obscurity he struggled against hardship and privation with an indomitable spirit and an inexhaustible cheerfulness to emerge at an early age as one of the best loved and most admired personalities in Lehigh County.

No matter what sphere of human activity—fraternism, politics or business—Mr. Smith enlivened it with his ingratiating charm and incessant energy.

His popular and long known sobriquet of "Candy" not only suggests an early association with the manufacture of confections, but is much more aptly descriptive of a geniality and a warmth that won for him an expanding circle of friends.

As a fraternalist, Candy Smith was a member of every Masonic body, of the Elks, of Kiwanis, The Sons of Veterans, The Knights of the Golden Eagle, The Allentown Band—a truly representative group of fraternal organizations to which he generously dedicated his loyalty and services.

His business interests, although varied and dissimilar, flourished under the stimulating influence of his unusual industry and ability. Their range—of blacker boy in a shoe factory through the stages of candy manufacturer and salesman of cement to the superintendency of the State Employment Office—is an eloquent testimonial not only of a diversification of his interests but of his many faceted personality with which to express them.

His political career was long and interesting and productive of many accomplishments of merit and honor. As a representative from 1921 to 1929, Candy Smith became well known for a friendly relationship with his fellow members and an intimacy of knowledge concerning all of their legislative problems. As long ago as 1898, he was a delegate at the convention which nominated William McKinley and throughout the ensuing years he has been a tower of strength and direction to the Republican Party. In his capacity as Nestor of his Party, he has enriched with his political sagacity and philosophic statesmanship all who were privileged to be associated with him; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its deep sorrow at the inestimable loss of one of its outstanding members, tender to the people of Lehigh County its sympathy at their deprivation of a revered leader, and declare its belief that the memory of "Candy" Smith will remain forever enshrined in the hearts of his many friends and admirers; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to his surviving son, Raymond Smith, Americus Hotel, Allentown.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. SARRAF and SCHMIDT offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1951.

John R. Bentley, a Member of the General Assembly, 1941 to 1946, recently passed away at the early age of forty-four years.

Mr. Bentley's career, although distressingly brief, was nevertheless extremely alive with a variety of activities. He was born in Pittsburgh, attended the public schools of Pittsburgh, and secured his Bachelor of Arts from the University of Pittsburgh in 1929. Four years later he was awarded the Bachelor of Laws degree at the Harvard Law School. While at Harvard, Mr. Bentley held the Robert T. Swaine Memorial Scholarship and the Harvard Law Review Scholarship. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and Editor of the Harvard Law Review.

For active participation in politics, he was appointed Assistant Solicitor of Pittsburgh, 1937 to 1941; Special Assistant Solicitor, 1941 to 1942; First Assistant Solicitor, 1942 to 1944; and Solicitor for the City Controller, 1944 to 1951.

Mr. Bentley was associated with a number of clubs and fraternal organizations—The Young Democratic Club of Allegheny County, the F. and A. M., the I.O.O.F., and the Pittsburgh Field Club.

At the zenith of his intellectual powers and with the prospect of many years of civic service with which to enrich the life of his community, he was abruptly summoned by the Angel of Death to his heavenly home; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its poignant sorrow at the premature death of one of its distinguished ex-members and its deepest sympathy to the City of Pittsburgh upon the loss of one of its outstanding public servants.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, since the beginning of the Session there has been a great deal of discussion among the Senators, both in the cloak rooms and in the dining rooms and in the hotel lobbies, of the lack of respect given to Members of the General Assembly, due to the fact that the position as representatives in the General Assembly has fallen to a very low; that they not use the prerogatives that they should use, and that due to the lack of information and consultation, we are not able to do our job as Senators. We are not in any position to consult with experts, certified public accountants and economists, in discussing the budget; neither do we have any opportunity of going to the various bureaus and departments to find out whether or not they are overspending and have more employees than they should.

Mr. President, I think it is the consensus of all the Members that we should be given at least an opportunity to meet on the same grounds as the administrative department meets by having the benefit of accountants, economists, and budget controllers.

It is with this in mind that I have prepared a resolution and I hereby, Mr. President, offer the following resolution and ask for its unanimous adoption.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

REQUESTING THAT MAIN AND COMPANY BE EMPLOYED TO ADVISE SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE AT PUBLIC HEARING ON BUDGET

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 2, 1951.

Whereas, Each biennium the members of the General Assembly are called upon to accept at face value the budget estimating the fiscal policy for the administration of the governmental functions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The estimated income from taxes to be levied and appropriation required for conducting of the business of the Commonwealth as well as special grants to Education are prepared by the administration budget officer and the members of the General Assembly are not afforded any special assistance by auditors, certified public accountants or economists to prove or disapprove the estimated income from taxes or the need of the monies spent by the different department or special grants; and

Whereas, The Main and Company certified public accountant firm has played an important part in the Republican Administrations of Governor Sproul, Governor Pinchot and Governor Fisher in affecting economy in government, and also in establishing the budget system now in use in the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That in the absence of qualified consultants to assist the Members of the General Assembly and especially the Members of Senate Finance Committee the firm of Main and Company, certified public accountants shall be employed to sit and advise the Members of Senate Finance Committee at the public hearing on Monday, May 7, on the budget for the biennium of 1951-1952; and be it further

Resolved, That Main and Company be given the authority to question and cross examine the budget officer on the authenticity of the figures contained in the Budget and examine the Books of each department as well as question those in charge of each department on any matters concerning expenditures; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly make sufficient appropriation to defray the cost incurred by Main and Company in assisting the members of the Senate Finance Committee in securing a true and truthful picture of the need of new taxes and for the need of appropriation appearing in 1951-1952 Budget submitted by the Governor.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules:

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to clarify something in my own mind, at least. In connection with this hearing or hearings that we are going to have beginning on Monday morning, are these hearings to be confined strictly to the income tax bill or will it include the calling of the departmental heads before this committee to substantiate their budget requests?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, If I might paraphrase what was said here on the floor yesterday by the very distinguished gentleman from Luzerne, the Chairman of the Finance Committee, the Finance Committee felt that the Appropriations Committees of the House and the Senate have been for the last several weeks calling in department heads and have been holding hearings, to which all of the members of the committee were invited, to discuss the appropriations with them, and it was the thought of the Finance Committee of the Senate that their attenion, at least at this hearing, would be directed to the tax program.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, it seems to me that under this procedure that has been adopted here on these hearings, that you are putting the cart before the horse. You are going to determine or try to determine whether or not you need an income tax in Pennsylvania or whether or not you need any new taxes. Before that determination is made, we ought to find out what the true financial condition of the Commonwealth is; we ought to find out whether or not the budget requests made by the various departments, boards and commissions of the Commonwealth are correct and whether or not the money requested is needed; we ought to find out just what the condition of the Department of Revenue is so far as collections are concerned. In other words, we ought to find out what the exact financial condition of the Commonwealth is at this time, or what it will be on May 31, 1951, before we go into the tax program.

Mr. President, just let me say this about the hearings before the Appropriations Committee. I understood, at least, that these hearings were confined to the Members of the Appropriations Committee. They were the only ones that were given notice of the hearings, and the Members of the Appropriations Committee take the attitude that they are extending a courtesy to any Member of the Senate that is not a member of the Appropriations Committee to come in there and question.

Mr. President, I might add this, too. These hearings before the Appropriations Committee are scheduled every half hour. I defy anybody in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to say that they can properly examine a departmental head or a series of departmental representatives in a half an hour relative to their budget requests. If you allowed a day or at least a half a day to go into all of the details that a person is required to go into relative to a budget request by a department, it would be one thing, but to schedule hearings a half hour apart to me is simply a joke. It just cannot be done.

Mr. President, the other day it was announced in here that the Department of Public Assistance, for instance, was to meet at eight o'clock in the evening—I think it was last Wednesday—and it was called off and it was stated that there would be another announcement of the date for this hearing. Maybe I was not around, I do not know, but I did not hear any announcement of a hearing of the Department of Public Assistance on its budget request, but they had one and I certainly would have liked to have been there, if I would have known that the hearing was going to be held.

Mr. President, I believe that what we are doing here is putting the cart before the horse. What we ought to do is find out the true financial condition of the Commonwealth, have these departments substantiate their budget requests and then go into the tax program to determine just how much money we are going to need to meet those budget requests.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information in regard to the Finance Committee hearings scheduled for nine o'clock or nine-thirty Monday morning.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Neff, will state his point of information.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I think my point of information might well be directed to the Presiding Officer inasmuch as he is the Chairman of the Finance Committee.

I understand that a list of the individuals who were to be invited to testify would be available in the next day or two. Do you have that information at this time?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I do not have that information; I am sorry.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire if the interrogatory was directed to the Chair?

Mr. NEFF. It was, Mr. President. It was so stated.

Mr. President, will that information be available to the Members of the Senate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Neff, would you be willing to withhold your questions until such time as I am not presiding?

Mr. NEFF. I will, Mr. President.

RESOLUTION No. 42

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1951.

The basketball team of Kutztown High School has demonstrated its athletic worth and its undeniable superiority by winning in two successive years the Class "B" State Championship.

It is truly a commendable event in educational circles when high school students can diversify their activities, directed to the pursuit of knowledge, with outstanding performance and success on the playing field. Perhaps, the Roman adage—mens sana in sana corpore—has more significance than the blase moderns are willing to concede. At least, the youth of Kutztown offer refreshing evidence that the stern business of acquiring formal knowledge and skills can be tempered with the collateral discipline and courage that are so necessary to achieve success in competitive athletic contests; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extend its heartiest congratulations to the members of the Kutztown Basketball Team for its brilliant achievements on the court; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its laudatory satisfaction with the skillful instruction imparted by Coach John Silan in organizing a winning team and infusing it with the spirit of determined, fair, and coordinated play; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the principal of the Kutztown High School, Kutztown, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

NOT VOTING—1

Scanlon.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I suppose most of you have been apprised of the fact that the Kefauver report has finally been made public. The newspapers in most of the cities of Pennsylvania have brought forth some salient facts pointing out the existence of crime and corruption and the unholy alliance between some of those engaged in such practices with police officials and with politicians.

Particularly is this so in Philadelphia. And as most of you know, a grand jury, a special grand jury, has been meeting in Philadelphia in an effort to ferret out those who are guilty of the crimes alleged, not only in the Kefauver report, but who have been brought out from time to time in the past year or so in that great city.

Two weeks ago I directed the attention of the Members of this House to the fact that the grand jury was short handed and would be unable to conduct a thorough, complete investigation without some state assistance. At that time I stated that I was going to introduce into this House a bill providing for the appropriation of $100,000 to aid the grand jury in carrying out such an investigation, unless the state came to the aid of the authorities down there, and assisted them in making a thorough investigation of the facts which have been presented, which would be presented to the grand jury.

The newspapers of Philadelphia informed me that one of the special District Attorneys assigned to this investigation has indicated that in spite of promises made by the Governor and by Colonel Wilhelm, head of the State Police, such aid has not been forthcoming, and as a result they have been compelled to cut short on their investigation and have been compelled to set aside some important duties that have been imposed upon them.

The Kefauver report has pointed out Philadelphia particularly as one of the cities where vice and corruption have been aided and abetted by public officials.

I know full well that the Members of this House are interested in wiping out such a cancerous spot upon the body politic and that you will be willing to aid them. And so I say to you, Members of the House, that unless the administration sends down to Philadelphia immediately aid through assistance provided by the State Police, we should take some action.

One of the gentlemen of this House, the Representative from Cameron County, Mr. Thompkins, has realized the problem that exists in Pennsylvania. He has offered legislation that is worth while, and which I hope we will consider eventually. But in the meantime, we in Philadelphia are in the middle of this investigation, and we feel that we must get State Police investigation.

We have appropriated a large sum of money for the State Police in the past; the present budget provides for an ample appropriation. From what I see most of them are engaged now in traffic duties. It is about time that they came in and helped us in Philadelphia, since our local officials do not have either the funds or the will to go ahead and conduct this investigation impartially and thoroughly. I call upon the Members of this House to prevail upon the proper authorities in the administration to come down there and help us conduct a thorough investigation so that we can eliminate the vestiges of crime and corruption which are all too rampant in Philadelphia today, and which, when this grand jury get through its investigation, I hope, will be eliminated.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in line with what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose, has said, I hope the gentleman was present at the Legislative roundup at the Mosque a few weeks ago, at which time Reverend Forney stated that there was no statement in the Kefauver report to the effect that there was any evidence of organized crime or vice in the state of Pennsylvania, which put it more or less upon a local basis.

Nevertheless, because of the furor that exists in the state today, because of the numerous petitions which have been addressed to the state officials, as well as local officials, because of a number of exposures which have appeared in national magazines, I have this day introduced a resolution, sponsored by 33 Members of this House, which is a fair cross section of the entire state, asking that a Crime Commission be appointed in this state to investigate the numerous complaints and exposures. I have accompanied this with an appropriation bill asking for the appropriation of $150,000 to carry out those purposes.

I trust that this will wash out and try to clear the atmosphere in connection with a lot of the criminal accusations and the accusations of vice and racketeering within the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how many Members are proposed for that Crime Commission?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, five.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how will they be appointed?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, they will be appointed as Deputy Attorneys General under the Administrative Code of 1929.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is, therefore, a partisan Commission.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is not. We have made no request that they be appointed from any particular political party nor that they be attorneys at law.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is the sponsorship of the gentleman's resolution partisan or bi-partisan?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the 33 sponsors to the bill are all members of the majority party.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

If the gentleman from Cameron or the Members of this House are looking for an effective Crime Commission, they will not staff it by Deputy Attorneys General. They will have a bi-partisan commission composed of representative citizens of this Commonwealth who are in a position to operate independently. We have had partisan investigation of crime in New York for a long time, and in Chicago. Now if we want a partisan commission here in Pennsylvania, the gentleman, I think, has gone about the matter in the right way. If he wants a real investigation on a state wide basis, he will try to provide for a non-partisan commission on the basis of a bill sponsored on a non-partisan basis.

I might say further, that the minority party welcomes a non-partisan investigation of crime in any county of the Commonwealth. I welcome such an investigation in Cambria county, my county; I welcome such an investigation in any county in the western part of the state; and I believe the Members of the minority party welcome such an investigation in any part of the eastern section of the Commonwealth.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. SARRAF and FENRICH offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1951.

The advent of spring has always been an occasion for jubilation. Nature's reawakening is symbolic of the flow of those vital impulses in man that underlie his triumphant creative efforts.

This springtime has been particularly gracious to Walter T. Kamyk for it has again ushered a baby's smile into his Pittsburgh home. There, on Thursday, April 26, 1951 at 4:58 A. M., the little stranger, Felicia Genevieve arrived to join with her older sister, Rita, to bring the blessed relief of their carefree manner to a father perplexed with legislative anxieties and burdens; therefore me it

Mr. GOODLING. We probably have about fifteen more to consider.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McMILLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman tell the House how many meetings he has had of his Committee?

Mr. McMILLEN. Five. Mr. Lovett, contrary to these other fellows we are a little different. We are not the hardest working Committee, but we are the most thorough Committee. And we do make the best pickle in the House.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman for his interest, at least. How many bills does he have in his Committee?

Mr. McMILLEN. About fifteen. We had about fifteen.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. REAGAN. Reagan (Ragan) not Reagar (Reegan).

Mr. LOVETT. I beg your pardon, would you please pronounce the name again for me?

Mr. REAGAN. How is that?

Mr. LOVETT. Would you please pronounce that name again for me?

Mr. REAGAN. O'Reagan (O'Ragan).

Mr. LOVETT. That is much better. Mr. O'Reagan, how many meetings have you had of your Committee?

Mr. REAGAN. Six.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman know how many bills you have in your Committee?

Mr. REAGAN. Four.

Mr. LOVETT. I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD. Yes sir, two hours each.

Mr. LOVETT. No short ones.

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD. No short ones.

Mr. LOVETT. How many bills do you have in your Committee?

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD. About twelve left. We have tabled eight.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman for his frankness.

Workmen's Compensation, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, is not in the Hall of the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Chairmen of the Committees that were here and answered my inquiry.

Last week I gave great praise to the Speaker of this House and to the House of Representatives itself for the manner in which they conducted themselves during the debate on the flat income tax bill. I said that we had come a long way during my time in the Legislature. I am sorry to say that I cannot say the same for the actions of the Committee Chairmen, that is, some of the Committee Chairmen; in fact about the same Committee Chairmen whom we had trouble with back in the old days of not holding any meetings. We have been in session since January, it is now May, and from the sound of many Members of this House, they are at least commencing to think about the time that we may adjourn.

If my memory serves me right, back in those old days the Chairmen of certain Committees in this House would go almost through the entire session of the Legislature; in fact, I think I remember one session in which we finally forced a Committee meeting of Labor, in the last days of the session; in the last week of the session of the Legislature.

That does not speak very well for our improvement over the years in handling our Committee affairs. I have been one who insisted that legislation should be reported to the floor of the House and the Members should vote either for or against, and that the Committee had the privilege of reporting out those bills either favorably or unfavorably to the House. I am still of the same opinion.

I just want to warn you that we are now getting into the dying days of the session, or we hope at least that we can look forward to some day that we might quit. We are going to start to move on discharge resolutions. We want to be fair—I have always tried to be fair. I have given the Committee fair warning. If you will be sincere in this matter and call Committee meetings and act upon legislation you will save me and the House and the Legislative Reference Bureau and the paper to write discharged resolutions that you will not pass, but which you will have to vote on. We are giving you this warning this morning, because next week we will expect meetings of these Committees.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to comment briefly on the results of the interrogation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews asks consent of the House to address the House. The Chair hears no objections. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, some of the Committee Chairmen have been present and informed the House as to how many bills they have in their Committee. Some of the Chairmen have not been present and did not inform the House, of course.

If we take the Committees that reported and tabulate the bills in their Committees and then if we say that the Committees that did not report had twice as many bills as the Committees that did report we will have about 640 bills.

All I want to know is whether it is necessary to appoint a committee to find out what in thunder has become of the other 600 bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, rise?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to give the gentleman a rough idea what has become of some of them.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, asks unanimous consent of the House to address the House. The Chair hears no objections. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman has heard of the Mausoleum of the Rules Committee, or of the Appropriations Committee?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I had been in hopes that the Majority Leader would not again refer to what I have interpreted as a profound insult.

The other day he said that there was a mausoleum in which the dead were reposing. And then he went on to say that I had one foot in that mausoleum. Now, I want to assure the membership of the House that I am not dead; I am not even half dead. I think his line of reasoning concerning myself and the foot in that mausoleum runs parallel to what he is thinking about the bills. I think he should revise his estimates.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, May 7, 1951 at 3:30 p. m. EST.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, up to about ten days ago, I was beginning to feel sorry for myself and my colleagues in this body for the time we have spent so far this Session, and in other Sessions and for the confinement that we undergo. As an example, just today I got up at five-thirty this morning in order to get here at nine o'clock to attend the hearing of the Finance Committee, and here we are now, after five o'clock and we are still at work. It may be that some people feel that we do not work as hard or as well as we should. In any event, I did reach the point where I felt rather sorry not only for myself but all of my colleagues, for putting in so much time in this confining kind of work, but last week something occurred which took away the feeling that I had, and that was the discovery that after long years of trial and effort, an individual who had really been confined for a period of twelve years was freed by a Judge of this Commonwealth after having been illegally confined in a penitentiary in this Commonwealth for twelve long years, and I concluded that while we, as Senators, feel that we are confined and begin to feel sorry for ourselves, we at least get some remuneration from the Commonwealth, little as it may be, for the work that we exercise and for the confinement that we undergo, and I thought, under the circumstances, the least we could do for this type of individual who had been illegally confined for twelve years was to pay him a modest sum for that illegal confinement.

Mr. President, I am not going to go into any of the details now. I am not going to talk about what the Supreme Court said and what the court in the City of Philadelphia said, but at this time I want to read in place and hand to you, Mr. President, the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. ROSENFELD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 608, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Justice for payment of certain moral claims against the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LANE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 609, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State Highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligations of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by adding a new route in Washington County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. BARR read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 610, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Property and Supplies to convey to the City of Pittsburgh all right, title and interest of the Commonwealth to a certain street situate within the City of Pittsburgh without any liability for damages occasioned by the closing or vacating of such street by the City of Pittsburgh.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I desire to make a brief remark before introducing a bill.

Mr. President, accidents are causing American industry a loss of 40,000,000 man-days annually, or the equivalent of a year's full time employment for about 134,000 workers.

Occupational injuries cost the nation approximately $2,700,000,000 last year. The rising incidence of these accidents, which are largely preventable, and which are interfering with the defense effort at a time when skilled manpower is in high demand, can be traced principally to the return of women to industry, reemployment of older people and temporary unfamiliarity with production tools by workers whose industries are changing over to defense production.

Most of these accidents can be traced to somebody's bad judgment. The nation can ill afford to have its greatest asset—manpower—subjected to these accidents while it is within our power greatly to prevent them. Our problem is to teach people to exercise the right judgment when they or others are exposed to danger.

Mr. President, I and every member of this Senate have expressed our interest in safety legislation at every Session of the Senate which I have had the privilege to attend, and it is with pleasure that Senator T. NEWELL WOOD, Senator STEVENSON, Senator SNOWDEN join with me in reading in place and presenting to the Chair the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. MALLERY, WOOD, STEVENSON and SNOWDEN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 611, entitled:

An Act creating the Pennsylvania Public Safety Commission as a commission providing for the appointment of a director of Public Safety, setting forth the powers and duties of the commission, and the director, defining the scope of existing safety agencies; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. STEVENSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 612, entitled:

An Act to create a fund to be known as the Urban Redevelopment Fund from which loans may be made to Redevelopment Authorities to facilitate urban redevelopment; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officials and boards; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have here in my hand many editorials taken from the Pittsburgh papers, asking for the abolishment of the Milk Control Commission. Last week the Milk Control Commission used their bureaucratic way of doing business by forcing upon the housewife of Pennsylvania another increase in the price of milk to take place July 1. However, this time we find that there was one member of this Commission who took issue with the other two members and attacked them for their highhanded method and their lack of interest in the consuming public of Pennsylvania. I was glad to see in the Pittsburgh paper—this appeared in all three, I am not playing favorites—that even the Governor of the State has become a little bit alarmed and disgusted with the way the Milk Control Commission is being conducted and has threatened to remove two of these commissioners who issued this one cent a quart rise in milk.

Now, Mr. President, as a taxpayer, and speaking for taxpayers in this State, I would like to know one thing. Why do we have to pay half a million dollars of tax money for a commission that is rigged up to protect the milk interests of the State, a commission that is using a formula for raising the price of milk which is of absolutely no use in the State, because the Commission's regulations used in regulating the cost of milk is tied up to the cost of butter, and in the State of Pennsylvania we only produce five per cent of the butter that is used in Pennsylvania. If the Milk Commission was honest, and I say honest and I mean just exactly what the word signifies, if they were honest in their efforts to protect the consumer and do an honest job between the dealer, the consumer and the farmer, they would tie up their formula with the milk that is used in making ice cream in Pennsylvania, which would be a more fair way of deciding the cost of milk than tying up with the butter formula.

Mr. President, I do not know how long we are going to stand for such a Commission. This Commission has outlived its usefulness. It was a creation of the depression, and in the depression days it was useful, but today when we have full employment, when we have ample wages, when the farmer is in the height of prosperity, I do not know why we have to use a socialistic idea in selling milk in Pennsylvania. I am tired of listening to the Republican Party making great speeches on Election Day against Socialism, and then stand up and defend Socialism when it applies to the farmers of Pennsylvania or more rightly to protect the butter interests, who are not even of Pennsylvania.

So, Mr. President, I think the time has come for a showdown to see who in this Senate really wants the Milk Commission. Let us ferret out and smoke out some of these people who back home tell the people that, well, they would like to do something about the Milk Commission and they are. I am going to give them the chance today to do it, because I am going to ask to discharge the Committee from further consideration of the Milk Control Board. I am going to help the Governor out, because the Governor will not have to fire those two other members of the Milk Commission, because, after all, it is not needed. There is no use in this economy of ours. It should be done away with. It serves only one selfish group, and if you people on the other side of the Senate want to vote and put yourselves on record as serving that selfish group, who are using the Milk Commission to amass fortunes. Do you realize what you are doing by putting these increases on milk that you have been putting on, you are charging the poor housewife millions of dollars more for milk that is going to be denied their babies and their families so they can build them up into good healthy men and women.

So, Mr. President, I offer the following resolution and ask for its unanimous adoption. I also ask for a roll call on the vote.

RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 34

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 7, 1951.

Resolved, That the Committee on Agriculture be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 34, entitled "An act to abolish the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission, and to repeal the act by which it was created," said bill having been in the hands of said Committee for a period of ten days and more, having been referred on the 15th day of January, 1951.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand that the gentleman from Allegheny, my distinguished neighbor and colleague, has asked for the immediate consideration of this resolution?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, as I understand the rules, a resolution for the discharge of a committee cannot be referred to any committee.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. I had to dispose of it and I did not know whether the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, was going to make a motion.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, under the rules of the Senate is it not true that a discharge resolution is a privileged resolution?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. DENT. Therefore, may I suggest, Mr. President, that the resolution be voted on.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland is a Member of the Rules Committee, and I do not know of a finer place to discuss a more fitting subject as the Milk Control Board than in the Rules Committee. It is one of those wide open committees; anybody can attend and everybody does, and we discuss those resolutions with vim, vigor and vitality.

Mr. President, if the Minority side does not want us to consider it in the Rules Committee, where it can be considered impassionately and without any emotion and without any attempt to strain the gentleman's milk, it is all right with us.

Mr. WALKER. I move you, Mr. President, that the resolution just read by the Clerk be laid on the table.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is my opinion that if this maneuver succeeds, then the value of a discharge resolution is no longer available to the Members of the Senate. A discharge resolution is a privileged resolution, calling upon the Senate to vote on the question of the discharge of a committee from consideration of a bill. That points up the vote on that particular bill, and there is no other parliamentary procedure whereby that vote can be taken. If this resolution is laid upon the table, then it nullifies the parliamentary procedure set up for the protection of minorities and for the use of minorities in every deliberative body that works under the Roberts Rules of Order or the Jefferson Manual, and I do not think it can be placed upon the table. It must be voted upon as a resolution of privilege.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not like rules to work half way. I was always under the impression that a motion to lay on the table was not debatable, and may I suggest that I think we have probably come to that period in the Legislative Session that we always get to, where day after day we will be confronted with motions to discharge committees, and, Mr. President, I think perhaps the best way to meet things like this is head-on.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny has presented a resolution to discharge the Committee on Agriculture from further consideration of House Bill No. 37, which is a bill to abolish the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission, and repeal the Act by which it was created. Now, Mr. President, in order to no longer embarrass the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, and the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, I withdraw my motion to lay it on the table if the Chair would so permit me.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will accede to that request.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I want to say before we debate this matter, it is not with any idea that I will draw some of the fire from his vehement discussion of this controversial subject, but just because of the deep appreciation I have for his success in the past, his success in the present and his success in the future, I want to personally say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that Westmoreland County is very fortunate at this point and the citizens of Westmoreland are very fortunate. It is our fear, and I hope that our fears are groundless, that his elevation to the Board of County Commissioners of Westmoreland County is not indicative of the "old soldiers never die" theory on the part of the gentleman from Westmoreland. I do not want him to fade out, Mr. President. I want him to stay right here with us. I would not want to be in the Senate without him, because I would miss him. That is number 1, and number 2, I have not the faintest idea what I would have to be confronted with on the other side if he would leave.

Now, Mr. President, in the fear that he is the lesser of two evils, I want him to stay right where he is and always be the Minority Leader.

Mr. President, this resolution to discharge the Committee will have to be dealt with and I am perfectly willing to meet it head-on. I think the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, has asked for a roll call.

Mr. HOLLAND. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. As I understand the record, if the Senator will yield, the resolution was presented by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, and he moved that it be immediately adopted, but there has not been a seconder to that motion.

Mr. NEFF. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The PRESIDENT. I am not going to read anything, but I would just like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate, that I am reading from Jefferson's Manual, Section 406, on page 172. Now, please examine that before we get into this position the next time. The answer is very clear there, and I wish to compliment Senator Walker for withdrawing his motion because this is not a privileged resolution, not by the rules of the Senate either.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the rules of the Senate specify resolutions that are privileged, but they do not specify that this is a resolution that is privileged, but a discharge resolution, by precedent, in the long history of the House and Senate, has always been considered a resolution on the bill itself or a vote to be taken to identify the vote upon that bill. Is that right or wrong?

The PRESIDENT. Well, I cannot quite agree with that, but may I suggest this to the Majority Floor Leader, if it is possible to reach a more amicable agreement before this question arises again, I shall feel compelled, unless I can be shown authority to the contrary, in the future to rule that when there is a motion to place a discharge motion on the table, I will be compelled to do it if a majority vote sustains it, under the rules of Jefferson's Manual and the rules of the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Now, Mr. President, following that procedure—we may as well get it aired out here so that we know in the future just what rules we are operating under and what procedure we must follow—following that procedure then if a bill or resolution is laid upon the table by a majority vote, how can it be raised from the table?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. DENT. I yield, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, if we vote on this one, that perhaps, if the Rules Committee is still in good standing, we will settle the matter in the Rules Committee to the satisfaction of the Majority and the Minority and the Royal Oak Party.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, seeing that the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, speaks for two parties against one, I guess I will have to go along.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, in order to keep the precedent established, a motion to discharge a committee is in a different category than a resolution to discharge a committee, but we will debate it in the Rules Committee.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, let us understand that this is a motion and it is in writing.

The PRESIDENT. I would have to agree with the Minority Floor Leader on that proposition. I think that is correct.

Mr. WALKER. "Resolution" is the heading of the thing I have in front of me. It may be a gardenia, but it smells like a rose.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have been in this General Assembly seventeen years, and in those seventeen years I have seen all resolutions for discharge being written in the same manner. I am very much surprised to find that the Majority Party of the Senate is changing the rules of the Senate and the General Assembly. As long as I have been here, I have never seen a resolution for discharge made up otherwise. It has to be written as a resolution to make the motion properly. That is a rule of the General Assembly and it has been carried on in all the years I have been here, and I am so very much surprised to find that the Majority Leader is finding ways and means to change the rules of discharge which have existed at least as long as I have been here.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am reading from the Pennsylvania Legislative Directory, 1951-1952, Rule 43, on page 31. The title of the rule is "Discharging Committees," and it states, "No committee shall be discharged from consideration of any measure within ten calendar days of its reference without unanimous consent of the Senate or after such ten day period except by majority vote of all members elected to the Senate."

Mr. President, I am assuming that this particular bill has been with the Committee on Agriculture for a period of more than ten days. Therefore, a motion to discharge the Committee is in order, and if the majority of the Senate votes on the motion, then the Committee will be discharged from further consideration of the bill, as I understand this rule, and I would like to have somebody tell me whether I am right or wrong.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to advise the Senator from Northampton that it is not a question of whether the resolution or motion is in order so far as consideration or introduction for consideration is concerned, but the question is whether or not it is such a privileged resolution that it cannot be referred to a committee upon the objection of one member of the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, may I make another inquiry? The other day I was going to make a motion to discharge the Agriculture Committee from further consideration of an oleo bill. I inquired from my colleagues whether it had to be done in writing or done verbally. We discussed this rule and I understood that such a motion could be made verbally and did not have to be in writing in the form of a resolution. Am I correct on that?

The PRESIDENT. I think that is correct. There is no serious question, I do not presume, as far as whether or not Senator Holland's resolution is in effect a motion. We are ready for a roll call if we can reach that point.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I have a further inquiry. If Senator Holland would withdraw the resolution and make a verbal motion, properly seconded, would we then take a vote on the motion?

The PRESIDENT. We are going to take it anyhow. In other words, the Chair would have to take the position—if this answers the Senator's inquiry—as far as this situation is concerned, that it probably would not comply with the rules of the Senate if it were not reduced to writing, but there is no differentiation as far as whether or not it is actually a motion.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I understand now that the question raised here was settled and we are going to vote on the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

Mr. DENT. That is right, Mr. President. It is all settled and we are going to take a vote on the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HOLLAND and Mr. NEFF and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION No. 106 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, at this time I desire to call from the table Senate Resolution No. 106.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF ALL DISABILITY BENEFIT LAWS

In the Senate, January 15, 1951.

Whereas, Adequate modern disability benefit laws are necessary for the welfare of the huge labor force of this Commonwealth as well as for the well-being of management and the general public; now, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a thorough study of all disability benefit laws to the end that adequate legislation on the subject may be provided for this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall file a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly at its next regular session by the first day of February, 1953, together with drafts of any proposed legislation necessary to carry out the same.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 106 ADOPTED

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I move the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. With apprehension, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to ask if the gentleman has any objection to us considering this resolution at this time? I did not want to interrupt him in the middle of his reading of it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to have the privilege of looking at the resolution because it does deal with a very serious problem. If you will give me just a half a minute I can get through it, and will be able to answer your question.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may we be at ease to give the gentleman a chance to read the resolution? (The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, an answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, the Majority Leader, I have no objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution but if the Chair permits, in order to keep the record straight, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this resolution deals with a study of disability or a proposal for disability. In the study of such a proposal, it is your understanding that this has no effect upon the question of compensation for injured workmen?

Mr. WALKER. That is my understanding, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Employed workmen covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act?

Mr. WALKER. That is my understanding, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly, and with that answer as our guide, I suggest the Democrats vote for the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker, at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Walker, I am looking now at the Republican platform of last year. This is what it says and it applies to this particular resolution. It says, "We recommend that the General Assembly direct the Joint State Government Commission to make a thorough study of the disability benefit laws and report their findings to the Assembly at the earliest possible date."

Mr. WALKER. That is it, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. I just want to compliment the Majority for adhering at least to one portion of its platform.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may we go back and take a look at that again?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, this portion of the platform comes under "Labor." Here are some other phases that come under "Labor", concerning which I want to ask some questions.

"We favor strengthening the Workmen's Compensation Act and increasing the benefits under this Act to adequately compensate injured employees, commensurate with the increased cost of living and the decreased purchasing power of the dollar."

Will you please tell me whether or not the Majority Party has introduced a bill to meet this portion of the Republican Platform?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I state to the gentleman, that there will be within the very near future bills introduced to cover every plank that he might refer to in that platform.

Now, Mr. President, we are trying to take them just as fast as we can. We do want to make the mistake that the runner did in that hurdles race a couple weeks ago where he tried to jump two hurdles at once and fell flat on his you-know-what. We are taking one at a time, and this is to discharge that plank in the platform dealing with disability laws. Legislation covering the workmen's compensation benefits will be introduced and presented to the Senate for action within the very near future.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I understand that such a bill has not as yet been introduced.

Mr. WALKER. Well, Mr. President, if it has, it has escaped my notice, Senator. I do not think that the bill that is referred to there in the platform has been introduced. If it has, it has not been brought to my attention by the Chairman of the Labor Committee.

Mr. YOSKO. All right. The platform goes on to say that "We believe that the employee who is permanently or totally disabled should be compensated for the full period of time during which the total disability exists." Has such a bill been introduced by the Majority Party to meet this platform pledge?

Mr. WALKER. The same answer goes for the whole labor program, Senator. It is all going to be wrapped up in legislation to be presented in the very near future.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, just this one general question. Have any bills up to this time been presented to meet the labor plank in the Republican platform of last year?

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, my answer to that one particular phase I think would cover all. To the best of my knowledge, the labor planks have not been met yet with bills, but may I reassure the gentleman that they will be. We have that definitely in mind and bills are being drafted, and I do hope that we can win his enthusiastic support of our endeavors to increase workmen's compensation.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you, Mr. President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I just by chance looked at my Calendar, and I find that we are here four months today, and I was wondering how much thought the Republican Party has given to their platform. After being here four months, they have not the bills prepared yet. Has the result of the love feast between the Manufacturers Association and Governor Fine entered into this picture, that they have got to water down their bills. As my good colleague here, Senator Neff, said, we have done everything about fish, bows and arrows and snakes, but we forgot all about the platform of the Republican Party, and I am a little timid now that this platform is going to be very much watered because the love feast is back again. Hop Along Cassidy rides again, and it looks to me as if the Republican Party is a little timid of presenting their bills, and after four months, if you do not have your bills presented, Mr. Walker, I am afraid that there is some dealing being done to kid the public; that the platform that was written by the former Governor Duff or who was a big instrument and was very largely concerned about it, is being watered down by the old guard. The love feast is back in Pennsylvania, and all the great stories and speeches made in the last campaign are forgotten.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that flattery is not going to get him anywhere. The day for him to scold us about our sins of omission and commission on this platform will be when we are coming down the home stretch of the Legislative Session and by no stretch of his fertile imagination, as much as the wish may be the father to the desire that is expressed in their political philosophy, the planks in the platform will be met, and when we are coming down the home stretch, if there are any that we have overlooked they will tell us about them then, but let us point back to the mistakes and not forward.

Mr. President, may we return to the Calendar and pick up the second reading calendar, and then after we have completed the Calendar, and if there is any further discussion that the gentleman of the Minority would like to have on our platform, which they have read in preference to their own, I will be glad to revert to it.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 43.

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1951.

Whereas, Many rumors, complaints, accusations and exposures have and are being made of gambling, racketeering and vice operating in many parts of our Commonwealth either unnoticed, unhampered or without opposition from law enforcement agencies; and

Whereas, Numerous complaints have and are being made of a laxity in the investigation and enforcement of the criminal laws of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Many petitions have been and are being addressed both directly and indirectly to State and local authorities seeking assistance in the solution of these problems; and

Whereas, The Kefauver Committee of the National Congress has suggested that further probing, investigation and prosecution of these matters should rest with State and local government; and

Whereas, Public interest and justice now require some positive action on these matters for the protection of the people and the body politic; and

Whereas, Section 904 of the Administrative Code of 1929, Pamphlet Laws 177, provides: "The Department of Justice shall have the power, and its duty shall be, with the approval of the Governor

(a) To investigate any violations, or alleged violations, of the laws of the Commonwealth which may come to its notice;

(b) To take such steps, and adopt such means, as may be reasonably necessary to enforce the laws of the Commonwealth," therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Attorney-General shall, with the approval of the Governor, appoint five persons as Deputy Attorneys General who shall constitute a body to be known and designated as the "Pennsylvania Crimes Commission," whose powers, functions and duties shall be:

1. To investigate any violations, or alleged violations, of the criminal laws of the Commonwealth which have been committed, or may hereafter come to its notice.

2. To take such steps, and adopt such means, as may be reasonably necessary to enforce the criminal laws of the Commonwealth.

3. To conduct public or private hearings as to it may be deemed necessary.

7. To do any and all things which may be necessary or required to carry out the purpose and intent of this resolution.

8. The compensation of the members of said commission and such employees as may be required, together with costs and expenses of operation be fixed as provided by the Administrative Code of 1929.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 44.

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1951.

Honesty, independence, and leadership comprise the essential qualities of an exemplary public official. Although these characteristics are frequently appraised on a scale of relativity, yet there is inherent in each of them an absolute value that should persist unchanged by time, circumstance, expediency, or any other extraneous factor.

When conditions are favorable for an individual and his party and the prognosis of a political action is reassuring, then a rigid practice of the three virtues—honesty, independence, and leadership—is relatively an effortless matter. But when the trend has changed and the storms of dissension and uncertainty are breaking overhead, it becomes difficult to hold resolutely to these basic concepts.

At such a time one is tempted to rationalize the impracticability of absolute honesty in the crooked world around him. He is inclined to think that an independent opinion is futile. If contrary to the popular view, and his impulse to lead becomes blunted by the disappearance of the crowd elsewhere.

Within a few months, Senator Duff has responded well to this criterion for public service. His thrilling courage in meeting squarely the challenging public questions of today without any consideration for his personal advantage or a partisan expediency is heart warming to liberal-minded citizens of every political persuasion.

The critical and objective editors of Liberty Magazine have appropriately observed these sterling qualities that impel a leader to cleave to fundamental principles and to turn away from the siren call of opportunism and have awarded Senator Duff the distinction of a formal recognition of his "outstanding honesty, independence, and leadership in the 82nd Congress"; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) express its enthusiastic gratification with the public service rendered on the national level by Senator James H. Duff, a service devoted exclusively to the welfare of our country and utterly devoid of any political implications; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) is appreciative of the distinctive and significant award that the Liberty Magazine has conferred upon one of Pennsylvania's most distinguished citizens; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Senator James H. Duff.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.
